- 3. Consideration of Proposed Fitness in the Parks Stencils – Karen Johnston/Kate Wilson from Public Health-Idaho North Central District Health Educator via Zoom. (Hand out of park pictures with possible stencil placements) Discuss sidewalk painting activities through an Idaho grant. The goal is to increase and improve physical activity opportunities. Strategy: playground improvements and updates. Wilson stated they started doing the grant in 2017. Palouse Early Learning center, Head Start and Gritman Child Care all have stenciled through Public Health already. Wilson would like to start this grant offer to schools and parks. Wilson stated that they have not needed to re-stencil any of the stencils at this time. As long as funding is available they can continue to make improvements on stencils. Cooper asked if grant funding is running out yet? Wilson stated that this falls under sustainable health grant and does not see money running out any time soon. Kisha asked if they do all of the stenciling at once and who maintains them. Johnson stated they can be done all at once and they maintain the maintenance on them. Tribble asked how nutrition and physical activity play a part into this? Wilson stated that they are looking to work with 9-10-year old's in after school programs about reading the labels to the nutritional aspect and that the stencils can be activity stations or caterpillar hopscotch. The paint used for the stencils is Sherwin Williams Pro Park Paint. It is intended for asphalt/concrete, takes 2 coats, and meets VOC regulations. They are able to stencil up to 7 parks. Tribble stated East City should have more than are pictured in the handout. Peterson asked about possible problems of dog walker and person doing jumping jacks at the trail near Hordemann Pond as the sidewalks are not wide. Schott stated in his experience common courtesy. Many stated concerns with stencils in the basketball courts at East City. Schott stated there's a safe zone and could work out details. Minden really likes the multiple station set up, so why only caterpillar at East City? Wilson stated we can go either direction at East City but her understanding is this park is used for many events so they may get in the way. Burton would like to know if we have any data of the usage of each park

so the city can paint the parks that have more people and don't waste where there are not many. Schott also stated this will not go on Paradise Pathway for reasons with bikers.

ACTION: Move forward with project to smaller group to decide what stencils and where.
