WELCOME AND ATTENDANCE

REGULAR AGENDA

1. Mural at Jackson & A Round #1 Review (ACTION ITEM)
   The Selection Panel is invited to review and discuss artist submissions. Submissions will be scored according to criteria published in the project RFQ. Discussion may include the identification of three finalists to create site-specific designs. Following a majority vote by the Selection Panel to recommend a slate of three finalists, staff will present that recommendation to the Moscow Arts Commission during a regular meeting.

   PROPOSED ACTION: Recommend a slate of three finalists, or take such other action deemed appropriate.

ADJOURN

NOTICE: It is the policy of the City of Moscow that all City-sponsored public meetings and events are accessible to all people. If you need assistance in participating in this meeting or event due to a disability under the ADA, please contact the City's ADA Coordinator by phone at (208) 883-7600, TDD (208) 883-7019, or by email at adacoordinator@ci.moscow.id.us at least 48 hours prior to the scheduled meeting or event to request an accommodation. The City of Moscow is committed to ensuring that all reasonable accommodation requests are fulfilled.

Dear City of Moscow

I'm applying for your call that I've found online. I have over 5 years of related work experience creating murals as well as portfolio work and references for my creative achievements. I've been a freelance artist for over 5 years as well and have created works for a variety of clients that include murals, paintings, digital art work, virtual reality, fashion design, and art installations for solo gallery exhibitions. Images of my work can be seen in my portfolio and should help you to not only get a sense of my artistic ability but also a feeling for my diverse tastes and skills for pleasing a wide range of audiences through community and clientele.

I believe that both my artistic background and my diverse skills in mural work does qualify me in consideration for the position as a selected artist for the project. I plan to use my abstract design skills that has a pop art feel using loud bright bold colors to draw attention to others going across it. I wanna put different color combos onto the space selected to show a diverse look and to give each section an amazing appeal being shown upon the surface but still make the piece look as one. I've used this style in countless projects that have help bring more attention to areas around through my art. I'm aware of the process of painting a mural at large size and I'm very confident in my craft to have it finished in a timely professional manner. I hope with your consideration I can bring my artwork to the community and event!

Thanking you in advance for your time,

Erbriyon Barrett

Letter of Interest

A celebration of potential, of opening and stretching toward the sunlight; a reflection of the spirit of play, celebration, and community transformation.

When I read the brief for this mural project, I was excited because it aligns with the themes that run throughout my own work. My murals inspire optimism and portray a connection to nature and community. I love the analogy of rising from fertile ground, and would look to expand upon that concept in my design, using nature and portraiture to create a vibrant narrative of optimism for the future.

I am aware of recent events in Moscow and understand the importance of inspiring positivity throughout the community - I feel that high caliber public art is the perfect avenue to connect to the public to initiate change and to progress forward. This prominent location will be well received by the community.

In the U.S. I've painted for places such as Whole Foods, Anthropologie, Macy's, Universal Studios and Six Flags, among many others. My experience in the industry means that the process goes smoothly from design to painting completion. I have a very methodical approach to large scale murals and have successfully completed many projects that have involved concept and design input from multiple stakeholders. I do not paint on-site until I have an approved design, which I replicate almost exactly onto the walls. No surprises. I use the highest quality non-toxic, exterior acrylic paints in the industry, which are better for the environment and for your health than aerosols.

I am passionate about making a positive impact on the community, spending much of my free time educating emerging artists about the mural industry. I give advice on pricing, client relations, common pitfalls and other business tips. None of my success matters if we don't hand the next generations a better industry experience (and world) than we had.

I was born and raised in New York and moved to Australia a few years ago, but I am legally able to work in the U.S. and am happy to pay for international travel costs out of pocket.

Dear City of Moscow and the Moscow Arts Commission

I hope this letter finds you well. My name is Isaac Tapia and I am writing to express my interest in contributing to the vibrant art scene in your community through the creation of a mural. Having observed the positive impact that public art can have on a community, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute my skills and creativity to enhance the visual landscape.

Art has the power to evoke emotions, tell stories, and create connections. With a background in Aerosol and Brush, I have honed my ability to translate ideas into visual narratives that resonate with diverse audiences. My passion lies in creating art that not only beautifies public spaces but also engages and inspires those who encounter it.

I am particularly drawn to the theme of presenting the community with a diverse mural that the community can reflect itself as it aligns with my own artistic vision and values. I believe that art should be inclusive, accessible, and have the ability to spark conversations. Through this mural, I aim to contribute to the cultural richness of your community while addressing themes that are relevant and meaningful to its residents.

I have attached my portfolio, which showcases a range of my previous works, demonstrating my versatility and commitment to producing high-quality art. Additionally, I am open to collaborating with the community and incorporating input from residents to ensure that the mural reflects the diverse perspectives within your neighborhood.

I am excited about the possibility of bringing this vision to life and contributing to the visual tapestry of our community. Thank you for considering my application. I am looking forward to the opportunity to discuss my proposal further.

Best,

Isaac and Rico

IT-RA ICONS is the collaboration of Kansas City muralists Isaac Tapia and Rodrigo Alvarez. Since 2017, the artists have been commissioned to paint over 60 murals in the Kansas City area, with selected work in Los Angeles, Las Vegas, Kentucky, Wisconsin and Massachusetts. Their diverse body of work is united by vibrant colors, evolving designs and themes that celebrate their communities and honor their identities as artists who migrated to the U.S. at a very young age.

Isaac Tapia was born in Mexico, where he lived until moving to the U.S. when he was 9. He graduated from Paseo Academy of Fine and Performing Arts in 2010 and studied at the Kansas City Art Institute. His passion for connecting with his community through the arts began during his time as Youth Development Coordinator for the Mattie Rhodes Center, where he mentored youth through a variety of artforms. In his solo artwork, Isaac focuses on portraits that elevate important-yet often under-represented-members of his community and celebrate the complex narratives of contemporary migration. He paints primarily with oils but also enjoys watercolor and multimedia drawings. Isaac's paintings have been exhibited throughout Kansas City, and his work has traveled in shows with the Mexican Consulate and La Onda. His most recent work, a large-scale portrait and interview featuring his parents, is now on view as part of La Presencia Estratificada at the Nelson Atkins Museum of Art. Isaac is a founding member of the M.A.S.A. collective, and is one of the resident artists at the Agnes Arts Building.

Rodrigo Alvarez was born in Rivera, Uruguay and moved to Kansas City at the age of 14 in 2002. He graduated from the Paseo Academy Of Fine and Performing Arts in 2007 and studied graphic design at Metropolitan Community College. Rodrigo then attended the Illustration Academy in the summer of 2019 and worked for Ivanhoe Urban Neighborhood Initiative while teaching painting to senior citizens as a solo artist. In his solo artwork, Rodrigo, also known as "Rico," explores the persistence and relentless force of Mother Earth by fusing organic figures into metal sculptures. By bending, melting, and bracing commonly used metals, he hopes to portray the balance, power and adaptability of nature. He also enjoys painting with acrylic and oil and doing plenair around rarely visited areas of Kansas City. Rico's sculpture La Vida y La Muerte, a 9-foot spider constructed from reclaimed metal, is on view as part of La Presencia Estratificada at the Nelson Atkins Museum of Art. Rico is a founding member of the M.A.S.A. collective, and is one of the resident artists at the Agnes Arts Building.

LETTER OF INTEREST

I would be honored to be apart of the Moscow Public Art project, as an UI graduate, as a creative, paying homage to the place that helped shape me into the artist I am today. I try to maintain a sense of connection to place as often as possible through my art.

When I create community-based projects, it's very important to know the history and the community. I feel comfortable to work on this project because I used to live in Moscow Idaho about five years and graduated from U of I, and even met my future wife when I was a student. I'm very lucky that I had a chance to create this years Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival poster.

As a creative process, I always think of unifying message, work with the environment and like to create strong images based around that. It is always a priority to make people think about why, without giving any sense of negativity.

There is one example that I want to mention is the City of Edmonds mural project. I created a mural based on the connection between the city and its sister, Hekinan city in Japan. I came up with the idea for using Aosagi (blue heron) with Japanese ukiyo-e style. When I was installing this mural, one elderly lady approached and told me, "Thank you so much for doing this for our community". I realized that not all murals need to be overly strong. It's more important that the art could connect the people and community in the area, and give positive vibes.

As mentioned, I'm originally from Japan. I came to US when I was 18 to study English, graduated from University of Idaho with BFA major. After working for Seattle's Modern Dog Design Co. for 7 years, I summoned the courage and was privileged to start my own studio in 2012. Now I live in Camano Island, WA with my wife, 3 kids and dog + cat. I was lucky to work on the Starbucks green cup in 2016, and have since garnered attention from awesome clients such as Snow Peak, Fjallraven, Facebook, Seattle Kraken, Gamba Osaka, Starbucks Japan, Brooks and more. Last year, as a nod to the BIPOC art community, I was featured in a Vanity Fair article.

Shogo Ota

PROFILE

Although Shogo hails from Japan, he has called the Pacific Northwest home for more than a decade. Shogo graduated with a BFA from the University of Idaho, which landed him at Modern Dog for 7 years, located in caffeine city, Seattle, Washington.

Shogo Ota established Tireman Studio in 2012 with the help of his wife, his cat, Meme, his dog, George and his bunny, Totoro.

LETTER OF INTEREST

February 07, 2024

City of Moscow, ID
Moscow Arts Commission ("MAC")
For the Building at Jackson Street and A Street
Moscow, Idaho

Dear Members of the Moscow Arts Commission,

I hope this letter finds you well. My name is Maria DeFelice, and I am writing to express my genuine interest in contributing to the vibrant arts community of Moscow, ID by creating a mural for the government building on the corner of Jackson and A Streets. With over a decade of experience as a muralist, my portfolio of over 100 murals across various industries span both internationally and across the United States. Not defined by any style, theme, or period, I approach each project uniquely. I consider and research all aspects of a project including client, brand, locality, and any special elements to steer the heart, mind, and soul through the art I create and the stories it tells. I am excited about the opportunity to bring my artistic vision to the heart of Moscow, ID.

In my career, I have had the privilege of working on diverse projects (interior and exterior), ranging from hotels, public libraries bars, and restaurants to public schools, retail spaces, healthcare offices and more.

I am deeply committed to contributing to the community and enriching the lives of its residents through my art. As a mother of 3, the city's spirit of play, celebration and transformation make it an ideal place for me to channel my creativity and make a positive impact.

LETTER OF INTEREST (CONTINUED)

Understanding the importance of the mural's theme in relation to the location and surrounding context, I will create a design that is engaging both up close and from a distance (which will serve both foot and vehicle traffic equally). My goal is to capture the city's values and identity with a piece of art that resonates with locals.

To ensure the longevity of the mural in the natural elements, I am committed to using only high-quality materials. Latex exterior paints that are specifically made for outdoor use ensure that the artwork will withstand the elements and remain a source of inspiration for years to come.

I am enthusiastic about the prospect of contributing to the cultural landscape of Moscow, ID and would be honored to be considered for this project. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss my proposal in more detail and explore how my artistic vision aligns with the goals of the Moscow Arts Commission.

Thank you for considering my application. I am eager to contribute to the continued growth and beauty of Moscow, ID through the transformative power of public art.

Sincerely,

Maria DeFelice

To: The City of Moscow and The Moscow Arts Commission

I would like to express my interest and overwhelming desire to design and paint the new mural at Jackson and 'A' Streets. I am an artist and Lewiston High School science teacher with over 40 years of roots firmly planted in the Quad-cities area. I have worked on various public and private art projects including recent mural commissions for Asotin County Community Services, The Washington Traffic Safety Commission, and NASA Ames Research Center. In addition to mural painting, I have had solo art exhibits and illustrated several children's books.

The idea of painting this mural inspires me on every creative level. As an admirer of all forms of artistic expression, I was saddened that the earlier mural had been ruined. Moscow has so many beautiful artistic features and the Jackson mural was as striking as any. So, when I heard that a new mural was to be painted, I jumped at the opportunity.

Our inland northwest home is quite special, as residents well-know. This mural should serve as a welcome to visitors while identifying with the diversity of those that live here. My mural design would echo the ideals of this region while showcasing the rich natural tapestry of The Palouse. I want to create a piece that is boldly colored, upbeat and pensive- a piece worthy of a driving around the block for a second view.

I urge you to visit my online portfolio to see a complete collection of my art at https://jeffkarlin.journoportfolio.com/ and I thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Jeff Karlin

OBJECTIVE

My career as an artist has always been inspired by my work as a science teacher and NASA field researcher. I always seek artistic opportunities that incorporates science in the artistic process. I create art in multiple media, but painting large public murals and displays ignites my creative pulse like no other!

SOLO EXHIBITS

December 2024 – February 2025
'Seeing Thought', a Nez Perce County Library exhibit, featuring over 100 original pieces including wildlife paintings, sculpture, and illustrations.

March 2018 – May 2018
'Musings by Karlin', a Lewis Clark Center for Arts and History exhibit, featuring paintings and sculptures inspired by my career as a teacher and geoscience researcher.

MURAL COMMISSIONS

Unleashed Marketing LLC, funded through the Washington State Traffic Safety Commission. This is a 4' x 8' acrylic latex mural hanging at Clarkston High School, Clarkston, Washington. (Completed September of 2023.)

Work Samples	Round #1 of the selection process welcomes the submission of artist qualifications and examples of past work. These materials will be evaluated by the Selection Panel, which will then recommend three finalists to create site-specific proposals. Each of the finalists will be required to enter into an agreement for creating the site-specific design and will receive a $1000 honorarium which is anticipated will be used towards travel expenses, food, design fees, lodging, and any and all expenses related to the creation of artist's proposal and presentation. No site-specific designs will be reviewed or considered in Round #1 of the submission process. The applicant is required to submit photographs of at least 2 completed public art projects of similar or larger scale. The artist's past work should reveal aesthetic, conceptual, and technical expertise.

.:Transparencies in Time: Cuahpohualli embedded in ethnopoetic language poetry:.

Clear Cylinder 1: L 7 (feet) x W (7 feet) x H (3 foot)

Clear Cylinder 2: L(8.5 feet) x W (8.5 feet) x H (3 foot)

The present visual art installation proposal is both interactive, multidisciplinary, and kinesthetic audio-visual sculpture. It's a multiphase comprehensive exposé on Mesoamerican lore and more specifically on a pre-Columbian notion of time. Here, there would be three simultaneous and concurrent proposals that center on concrete poetry. I am interested in this opportunity to let contemporary society at large know that poetry is alive, and that the oral tradition still lives, though it's thought that this ancient culture is dead. In synthesis these can be sculptures [i.e., outdoor public art] and/or broader architectural installations built on the facades of buildings both indoors and out. Proposal concept 1 [i.e., sculpture or façade installation] all will be made with the two primary elements: plastic transparency films and acrylic/plexiglass. The first is titled Transparencies in Time: Cuahpohualli embedded in ethnopoetic poetry [proposal concept 1 will comprise of two hollow cylinders on whose inside surface will be placed the transparencies] sealed within with a second acrylic/plexiglass that's cylindrical to create a hologram-mirror type effect. Proposal concept 2 & 3 will both comprise a wall/frame of solid acrylic/plexiglass in thickness will seal the plastic transparency films, who's shaped of the X and Y chromosomes of the DNA double helix. In the proposal concept 3 transparencies will be placed in the shape of a pyramid. My work is rooted in the original peoples and/or 1st nations so it's original by default, therefore my visual art speaks for itself. The sculpture(s) are a mirror and/or a mosaic of ideas in hologram or transparent as a pool screen…. While the second proposal concept is called Cyclones in the DNA2: Double Helix/Haiku Transparencies in [Space] Time and the 3rd, will be titled Dream Images: TransparenXcies Pyramid Shifts: 3D. Within these sculptures specifications are a back-projection scheme on plexiglass on façade of walls and motion-sensors for moving sculptures...

Mural : noun – defined as any piece of graphic artwork that is painted or applied directly to a wall, ceiling, or other permanent substrate.

To us, it is so much more. It is inspiration, empowering, an anchor to the community, wonder in the eyes of a young creative. It is meaningful discussion, your favorite part of walking your dog, the last step in the direction to your location, the art we all can share, the backdrop to a memorable photo, it is a tradition that dates back to the cave walls. It is where art innovates.

We are Rough Edge Collective : Maria-Jose (MJ) Lindo-Lawyer and Joshua Lawyer. Both of us being the art kid in school, we were obsessed with creating. Being children of immigrant parents who didn't know the next steps to take, led us to becoming self-taught artists. We know first hand how impactful public art can be, I (MJ) was forced to move frequently due to the civil war in Nicaragua, my family relocated to Toronto Canada and it was there that I was captivated by the mural work while riding the subway as a child. Meanwhile 2600 miles away, in East Palo Alto, Joshua was growing up in a strong Tongan culture, beautiful and rich in tradition. Although the Tongan culture had so much art intertwined in the traditions passed on from generation to generation, the concept of being an artist as a profession was an idea that was hard to grasp for his family. Through the 90's bay area graffiti/street art scene and seeing artists like Barry McGee transform the public space is where he would find his life's passion. We met in 2010 in a small art gallery in the Mission district of San Francisco, fell in love and the rest is history. For the next 10 years we would be showing in galleries across the country and have work featured in publications like Juxtapoz, American Art Collector, and exhibited work at the De Young Museum. In 2019, we installed our first mural and fell in love with the process and have focused on murals ever since.

Rough Edge Collective specializes in outdoor, and indoor murals with a focus on traditional techniques while using materials that allows for longevity, weather and uv resistance, and pigment retention. We achieve this by using high quality acrylic latex paint that is guaranteed for long term exposure in an outdoor environment (Nova Paint & Sherwin willaims) , and using a hand brushed mural style. We've have proven our artistic merit through our aesthetic quality, including content, craftsmanship, uniqueness and relevance to its environment. We have worked hand in hand with state agencies, city municipalities, public art boards, college students and faculty, youth organizations, individual communities and private businesses in the development process of public art.

Most recently we worked with Santa Rosa community college and their Intercultural center to install their first campus mural standing over 30 ft tall and 100 ft wide, we are also currently working with the City of Santa Rosa and with Caltrans on a $300,000 budget that prioritizes community involvement. We have also worked on the community side, where we have volunteered on artist panels to choose artists for RFQs, and we run a non-profit (The Mural Project) that hosts 8-12 murals annually in a short span of time.

When trying to envision a design and the location in which it will go, we first try to take in the history of the area, whether that be learning about the indigenous people who came before us, to learning about farming migration, and how that explains the diversity we see in the current day. We also research the local wildlife and plant life with the hopes of using these things as a narrative tool in our design. When creating the design we want the main figure to be modern so the community can see themselves in it. We also want to highlight the rich history that came before and how those moments shaped our present day. Lastly we hope to capture the dreams the community has for Moscow's future, we do this through subtle movement, a look in the figures eyes, a chin being held high, a bird taking flight

To Whom it May Concern,

Even as a young child, I dreamed of a career in the arts. I have been lucky to have spent the early part of my career creating art as a professional artist, designer, muralist, apparel designer, and educator.

With over 15 years of professional experience, I've created designs from concept to creation for large corporations, mom and pop shops, and my own apparel company. I have experience working through the design process, and not stopping until the design is the perfect fit for the client. Simultaneously, I have been an art educator at the high school level for the past 15 years. As rewarding as the profession is, there comes a time when my inner creative problem solver needs more work.

I am looking to expand my mural painting resume to include as many states and locations as possible. The ability to have ones work seen in the public realm accross multiple locations, is not only a goal, but a desire.

I look forward to having the opportunity to speak to you soon.

Warm regards,

Chris Bingham

Simultaneously, I have been an art educator at the high school level for the past 15 years.

My work seems to be taking an ever-evolving course, similar to my life in most stages. Over the years the style has been fluid and experimental, but the meaning behind the work has been the constant. Life, pattern, daily struggle, and the pure joy of being alive.

When you look at my work, I hope to place the viewer in a familiar time or place, churn a memory that may have been long forgotten, or just make you remember why it is you love your life.

The goal with every new public art piece is to transform the space into something that the community can thrive in. As is the case with each new location, I take pride in creating a vision that alligns with the fabric of the people. If the work can't resonate with those who see it daily, then the purpose of the work is lost.

MADYSON BROCK
madysonnoelledesigns@gmail.com
(559)356-4199
Dear Selection Board and the City of Moscow,

My name is Madyson Brock (she/her), and I am writing to express my enthusiasm and interest in the opportunity to contribute to the vibrant landscape of our town through a mural project. As a 20-year-old student at the University of Idaho and a local artist, I am deeply passionate about utilizing art as a means to spark change within the community and celebrate the unique identity of the area.

Despite being a woman studying Wildlife Sciences at the University of Idaho, I have accumulated about 15 years of art experience, with a focus on commissions and murals for the past 5 years. The prospect of transforming something flat and dull into a piece that serves the community fills me with deep exuberance. I believe in using my art to reflect values, create a sense of home, and foster collaboration. Especially in a public space of diverse individuals.

My studies in school focus entirely on the preservation and conservation of our earth, which aligns with Moscow's charming ecosystem, rich in both wildlife and agriculture. Idaho's diversity, from high deserts to lush forests, is unique in the Western United States, and capturing this essence through art would be an honor for me as an artist.

Having fallen in love with Moscow even before transferring to the University of Idaho, I am deeply invested in contributing to its artistic landscape for the benefit of future residents. I believe that art has the power to transcend boundaries and unite people from diverse backgrounds, much like Idaho did with its ecosystems. My proposed mural aims to showcase diversity in Moscow through a "cool winter" color scheme and an interpretation of people among nature, complemented by a bold typography quote. Something that would capture the eyes and hearts of passers-by.

My artistic style, described as eccentric, quaint, and whimsical, is often inspired by Mother Nature and my heritage, which I believe would blend seamlessly with Moscow's already established vibe. I am committed to incorporating input and feedback from residents, business owners, and fellow students to ensure that the mural reflects our collective vision and values. I believe I am well-suited for this mural project due to my style, flair, and deep love for our city. I am eager to discuss this opportunity further and collaborate with the City of Moscow to bring this vision to life. Please contact me at (559) 356-4199 or madysonnoelledesigns@gmail.com to discuss any questions or concerns.

Thank you for considering my proposal. I am deeply honored by your consideration and look forward to the possibility of working together to enhance the beauty of Moscow through art. I wish you the best of luck in the selection process and thank you again,
Mady B.

Letter of Intent

Hungerman rrastudio24@yahoo.com 630 688 8267 cj-hungerman.squarespace.com
24 Nebraska Street Geneva IL 60134

I am an individual artist and carry on site insurance when creating public art. I have created public artwork with cities, towns, corporations, and private individuals. Each of these experiences has a variety of different directions on the design and completion of the art. In many cases a successful piece of public art begins with the idea of collaboration. I enjoy working with panels or committees to create the perfect piece of original site-specific art for the space and the environment it will be residing. The desire of unity in our community is the base abstract concept I use in all my work. I do this to demonstrate the way all of us can interact with each other as we traverse through the friction of life. The vibrant colors, organic shapes, undulating clouds, and floral icons abstractly represent humans as individuals residing together harmoniously in their community. I also utilize a variety of simple icons and abstract shapes to create undulating surrealistic landscapes.

One of my interests in public art projects is self evolution, I have had the opportunity to work with the Chinese community, a Muslim corporation, the city of Chicago to mention a few of my public artwork commissions. Each of these experiences has allowed me to research the space the art will reside, the people that will be exposed to the art the most, the history of the area and stories of the people in the community. Public art has enriched my life considerably, which is the reason I want to create public art in as many different locations as possible. Previously to being a public artist I was adjunct faculty at universities and colleges teaching graphic design. The studious environment is one of my favorite places to be and create. There is a vibrating energy on university campuses that the students bring. I have over the tenure of my time in higher education designed and had students help create artwork together. This also has been an outline for students and community members on some of my public artwork projects to help with the construction of the piece itself. I also, of course, have done lectures during my university time applying that experience to speaking about my public art but in a more entertaining fashion.

As you will see in my sample public art pieces, although I create abstract art I have incorporated or used specific images and icons to fit the theme of each public art I have completed. When I was creating the design for the Chinatown Library in Chicago we went through more than 20 revisions of the 10 foot by 60 foot piece. Each revision, small and large, was an idea from a different individual which made the creation expand into a beautiful piece that the community, the architects, public art works department, and the Mayor could relate to in a positive manner. I did not compromise any individual's idea but found a way to combine them all together working as one.

My work ethic and dedication to visually depict any theme combined with my style (literally, abstractly, or both) is why I am a fantastic candidate for public art projects. The desire to research and listen to the committee or panel that has laid out the theme directives and to create a variety of preliminary designs is my goal.

My art is welcoming, which will create a vibrant and meditative feeling for any space. I strive to have all my public art relate to the people and the location on a personal level in order to create a stunning and comprehensive piece for all to enjoy on multiple levels of intellectual diversity. I am very flexible in difficult situations and find solutions to problems when faced with adversity.

MURAL ARTIST

Dear Selection Panel,

I am writing to express my interest in the opportunity to contribute my artistic vision and community-oriented approach to the mural project for the City of Moscow building located at Jackson & A Streets. As an artist deeply committed to fostering positive change through art and design in my hometown, I am inspired by the prospect of engaging with the Moscow community to create a mural that reflects its rich tapestry of stories, desires, and aspirations.

My artistic practice is rooted in the belief that art has the power to heal, sustain, and empower communities. Working at the intersection of architecture, city planning, art, and urban intervention, I strive to create emergent, collective, and relational experiences that encourage dialogue and collaboration. I am dedicated to forging active alliances with local actors and external experts, recognizing that the potentiality of this process contributes to the continuous evolution of my creative pursuits.

Central to my approach is the principle of participatory design, wherein I prioritize community engagement and empowerment. Through a series of collaborative workshops and dialogues, I would seek to amplify the voices and narratives of the Moscow community, ensuring that their desires, fears, stories, and needs are authentically represented in the mural. By partnering with local nonprofits and community organizations, I aim to cultivate a sense of ownership and belonging among residents, fostering a stronger sense of community cohesion. As the artist, it is my responsibility to translate these diverse stories into a powerful and cohesive narrative that resonates with all who encounter the mural.

I bring to this project a deep understanding of the local community, informed by my role as a professor at the university and my active engagement with various grassroots initiatives. With a foot in both the University and the local community, I am uniquely positioned to bridge the gap between different demographic groups and bring their stories to life through art. Additionally, my background as a professional illustrator and architect has equipped me with the technical skills and creative vision necessary to undertake large-scale projects within budget constraints. I have commissioned multiple works of art, participated in Artwalk, curated gallery shows, published children's books, and contributed to the Seattle Design Festival, all of which have demonstrated my ability to deliver impactful and visually stunning artworks that resonate with diverse audiences.

I am eager to collaborate with the Moscow Arts Commission and local stakeholders to realize this transformative vision for the City of Moscow building. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to contribute to the cultural enrichment and community vitality of Moscow through this exciting project.

Kindly,
Madalyn Asker

Letter of Interest

My name is Ernesto Maranje, and I am a south Florida-based muralist and artist. I would love the opportunity to paint a mural for the Mural at Jackson and A Streets.

I have painted close to 100 murals since I began in 2015. I've painted in states throughout the U.S. and in many countries abroad, including Ukraine, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Greece and Spain. I've also worked on many public art projects with cities, arts and cultural divisions, non-profits and NGOs.

Public art has become one of my focuses. I've painted for public art projects across the country, including towns like Jacksonville Beach, FL; Hopkins, MN; Green Bay, WI; Odessa, TX; Northampton, MA; Johnson City, TN; Fort Lee, NJ; Portland, OR; Allentown, PA; Gainesville, FL; Fort Lauderdale, FL; North Miami, FL; and Ocala, FL.

My work typically incorporates flora and fauna, and I use these elements to tell a story. For instance, I painted the mural Abuelita (shown below) with the Art in State Buildings program for the University of Florida's Institute of Hispanic-Latino Cultures, also known as "La Casita."

The mural features a grandmother/"abuelita" working in her garden, where lots of different plants and animals live together. The students and faculty told me about feeling at home at La Casita. Some people mentioned feeling like they were at their abuela's house. After the visit, each country was researched to find its national plant, flower, bird, butterfly, and other sources of pride. A symbol was chosen to represent each country and tell the students' stories.

Abuelita (2021) Gainesville, FL (front view) (side view)

I'd love the opportunity to reflect sentiments like these in a mural for this project. I use flora and fauna to illustrate our connection to nature, to each other, to our history, and to portray diverse and complex habitats. I'd use a similar theme for a mural at Jackson and A Streets.

Thank you for your time and consideration!

LETTER OF INTEREST

What I look when I create a public mural, is for it to have a sense of balance, to give the impression that it belongs there.

As an artist, I want to transmit a message or an emotion with my paintings. I have dedicated many years to hone my technical skills, because I strongly believe that a deep knowledge of law of proportions, perspective and colours/ light are essential for an artist. When creating an artwork, three are my main goals:

- To let my message be clear enough to be understood by most of the passersby
- to be technically and visually beautiful
- to create an artwork that is in harmony with its surrounding

My motto is:

The simplest is not always the best, yet the best is always simple

I want the design to be simple, but technically amazing; modern, but with a clear message.

In addition, I tend to prefer designs that can be understood by most of the passersby. I personally don't appreciate public murals or public Art that needs to be explained by a plaque. In my opinion, it means it somehow failed.

Technique is needed to express an idea, I strongly believe. My murals can be found in Italy, UK, Philippines, Pakistan, U.S.A., Canada, New Zealand and Australia.
I have a O-1 artist visa (called Individuals with Extraordinary Ability or Achievement) valid until 2027

My Virginia Beach's 2018 mural, Seashore Cathedral, was recognised by the Americans for the Arts Public Art Network (PAN) as one of the 50 most compelling public artworks from across the country and beyond.

https://www.vbpublicart.org/gallery/seashore-cathedral

In December 2019 I created, in Karachi, what is the tallest mural in Asia, and the tallest mural in the world made by a single artist, with its 287 ft of height.

Artist/Muralist

ABOUT ME

Why I Am Interested In & Excited to Paint This Mural

I have lived in the Pacific Northwest for over half my life, and in the Palouse, specifically for 23 years.
Living in the Palouse and being married to a third-generation farmer here has grown in me an understanding and deep appreciation for the land and what it provides. It provides not only for my family, but for our community. It has provided freedom, beauty, food, a living, and a home for all of us, now, and also to the Nez Perce Tribes who came before us.
We are truly blessed with an abundance of beauty in landscapes and in rich soil, which provides ample sustenance available so that we can have time and opportunity to explore higher learning and the arts.
You see examples of this in our vibrant university towns.
It is in how we embrace the farmers' markets and events such as the Lionel Hampton Jazz Fest. We are not only rich in history, but in culture.
I have a love for my community and would like to express it through sharing my gift of painting. I dream of producing an uplifting and meaningful mural for all, celebrating the goodness of play, celebration, and transformation that only our area brings.

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

With over three decades of experience in the art field, I excel in client relations. I know the importance of communication and hitting the mark according to my clients.
I have degrees in both Graphic Design and Photography, which go hand in hand. I am able to showcase my work through dynamic photography, impactful murals, and strong Graphics.
My murals grace residential and public spaces from Yakima to Coeur d'Alene, showcasing my keen eye for detail and design proficiency.
As well as having a strong art background, I also have a longtime background in doing painting and finish work for contractors.
I am accustomed to painting large structured buildings using ladders, scaffolding and man-lifts.

Dear members of the Selection Panel,

This letter is written with the strong interest in applying for the 2024 mural opportunity on the City of Moscow building in Moscow, ID.

I am a painter and educator currently living in Pullman where I completed my MFA at WSU in 2022. Originally from TX, I have lived in Pullman for about five years. The Palouse is truly a unique and beautiful region, rich in its geology and culture. I am continually inspired living here and am interested in further connecting myself with the histories of this region, as well as the city of Moscow.

As a passionate painter and public arts advocate, I find significant value in creating murals. The teamwork involved cultivates personal growth and feeds back into my personal art, which strives to be unique and compelling. While the public artworks that I have created differ from my oil paintings in theme, they nevertheless reflect my goal of creating emotionally resonate work to positively impact viewers.

I have sufficient experience designing and installing large-scale murals independently and collaboratively, having also lead project teams. Much of my graduate and post graduate experience has involved community-oriented murals, specifically. From 2020 to 2023, I had the privilege to work as a project manager for the nonprofit, Pullman Arts Foundation (PAF), helping foster numerous collaborative opportunities between WSU art faculty and students, local businesses, community members and regional artists. I led and installed a significant portion of the recent riverside mural, located on Thomas Hammer in Pullman, alongside Seattle-based artist Tori Shao who created the design. In 2023, I designed and installed an indoor children's mural for Palouse Discovery Science Center, in collaboration with WSU professor, Seoryung Park. Having worked on these site-specific projects, I understand public art as a catalyst for place-making and community-building.

These opportunities have also allowed me to understand iterative design processes and physical installation work, such as operating boom and scissor lifts, working on scaffolding, working with contractors, and managing project budgets and schedules. As a creative person, I thrive in this dynamic work and truly appreciate their outcomes. Each installation, its specific physical condition, people, and process offers a unique experience and results in an artwork rooted in place and community.

My goal as muralist is to help facilitate art that engages people with their environment and instills a sense of belonging. The opportunity to create and install an original artwork for your city would be both exciting and incredibly fruitful for me personally, allowing me to contribute my skills to the artistic quality of Moscow. I genuinely thank you for your time and thoughtful consideration and hope to discuss this project with you further.

Sincerely,

Sarah Barnett

Dear City of Moscow and the Moscow Arts Commission,

I am writing to express my interest in the call for artist submissions for the new mural project at the corner of Jackson & A Street. As a local artist and art teacher deeply rooted in the vibrant community of Moscow, Idaho, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to the city's rich tapestry of public art.

My connection to Moscow extends beyond my personal and professional life; it is a relationship built on years of engaging with and contributing to the local arts scene. Having lived and worked in Latah and Nez Perce County for nearly two decades, my artwork has been a celebration of the region's unique character and the stories of its residents. My experience as an art educator has further deepened my understanding of the transformative power of art in community spaces, allowing me to inspire and be inspired by students and fellow artists alike. This includes the public art initiative I began at one of the middle schools in Lewiston, Idaho, where we have so far installed over twelve large scale murals on the interior and have begun another large-scale mural on the exterior.

The proposed mural's theme, which celebrates the growth, play, celebration, and transformation rooted in the fertile ground of the Palouse, resonates deeply with my artistic vision. My portfolio, which I am eager to share, includes various works that reflect my fascination with nature, storytelling, and community engagement. From vibrant murals that adorn local educational institutions to intimate canvas pieces that explore the nuanced dance of what makes a place like Moscow so special.

I am particularly drawn to this project's collaborative and inclusive spirit. The emphasis on capturing the intertwining stories of students and life-long residents speaks to my belief in art as a medium for collective expression and cultural dialogue. My approach to creating art involves not just a representation of community narratives but an invitation to the community to see themselves within the art.

The opportunity to be part of the public art program is an honor I deeply cherish. I am enthusiastic about contributing a permanent piece to Moscow's public art collection, joining the ranks of celebrated regional artists beautifying our city and enriching our community's cultural landscape.

My collaborative artistic style would offer a unique and engaging addition to Moscow's public art collection. The prospect of bringing to life a mural that encapsulates the spirit of Moscow, with its commitment to play, celebration, and transformation, is a challenge I am eager to embrace.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to contributing to the Moscow community in such a meaningful way and am excited about the opportunity to present my site-specific proposal as part of the selection process.

Warmest regards,

Rachael Eastman

JMEL | Jesse Melanson
Moscow Public Art 2024: Mural at Jackson & A

Dear Moscow Arts Commission,

I am writing to express my interest in the opportunity to contribute to the vibrancy and spirit of the Moscow community through the creation of a mural on the City of Moscow building located at Jackson & A Streets. Having carefully reviewed the project description and the essence you wish to capture, I am excited about the prospect of bringing the celebration of growth, play, and transformation to life through a visually captivating mural.

As an artist deeply inspired by the intersection of nature, community, and individual stories, I believe my artistic vision aligns seamlessly with the themes you have outlined. The description of Moscow's rise from the fertile ground of the Palouse, with its dance of water, seeds, and soil, resonates with me on a profound level. I envision a mural that not only captures the physical beauty of this landscape but also metaphorically represents the interconnectedness of the Moscow community.

My proposed mural would aim to portray the intertwining stories of students and life-long residents, rooted in Moscow. Through a vibrant and dynamic visual language, I intend to convey a sense of celebration, potential, and the collective pursuit of growth. The mural will serve as a testament to the unique spirit of Moscow – a spirit that embraces diversity, fosters creativity, and continuously reaches for new heights.

I am particularly drawn to the idea of showcasing the playful dance of transformation within the community. My artistic approach involves incorporating elements of whimsy, color, and symbolic imagery to evoke a sense of joy and wonder. By utilizing a combination of bold shapes and intricate details, I aim to create a mural that not only beautifies the City of Moscow building but also serves as a source of inspiration for all who encounter it.

Moreover, I am committed to engaging with the local community throughout the creative process. I believe in the power of collaboration and seek to involve community members in shaping the narrative of the mural. By engaging with the community and seeking input from residents, the mural will truly become a reflection of the collective identity and aspirations of the Moscow community.

I am excited about the possibility of contributing to the cultural richness of Moscow through this mural project. I am confident that my artistic vision, combined with a collaborative and community-oriented approach, will result in a mural that not only meets but exceeds the expectations of the Moscow Arts Commission.

Thank you for considering my application and reviewing my qualifications. I am looking forward to the opportunity to design a proposal if selected for Round #2 and to further discuss and explore how we can work together to bring our visions to fruition.

Dear Moscow Arts Commission and The City of Moscow,

We are thrilled at the opportunity to express our interest in contributing to the vibrant cultural landscape of Moscow, ID. As Artists deeply connected to the power of community and the beauty of art and nature, we are inspired by the prospect of infusing these elements into a dynamic public mural for the building on the corner of Jackson & A Streets.

We have always found solace and inspiration in the connection and spirit between human interaction and the natural world. For us, murals serve as catalysts for fostering a sense of belonging and unity within a community. The process of conceptualizing, designing, and bringing to life a mural is a journey filled with magic and joy, as it allows us to celebrate the collective spirit and individual stories that define us. Having previously undertaken many projects in public spaces, along city streets and trails, we have witnessed firsthand the positive impact that murals can have on communities. The opportunity to engage with passersby and receive their feedback in real-time is immensely rewarding and fulfilling, not only for us, but for the community as well.

With nearly a decade of mural designing and installation experience, we have a deep understanding and knowledge for utilizing a specific space and conveying a powerful, creative message through our artwork. We have created and installed countless murals in the past and understand the proper preparation, materials and equipment needed to execute a mural of large scale and high quality in a timely and efficient manner.

Our artistic style is rooted in expression and creativity, with a focus on enhancing spaces and uplifting viewers through vibrant colors and inspirational imagery. We believe the power of art can transform environments, and we are committed to creating a mural that not only beautifies the chosen site, but also resonates deeply with the people who encounter it. We are excited to take inspiration from the picturesque landscapes of the Palouse region as well as the creative and energetic individuals in the Moscow community to create a design that spreads positivity and joy to its viewers.

To ensure the longevity and durability of the mural, we are committed to using premium materials and employing meticulous preparation techniques. With a focus on efficiency and environmental consciousness, we prioritize sustainable practices throughout the creation process, minimizing waste and environmental impact while maximizing the mural's lifespan.

In summary, we are deeply passionate about creating art that celebrates the spirit of community and the wonders of nature, and are looking forward to crafting a design that invites viewers on a journey of discovery and connection. We are eager to collaborate with you and the local community to bring this vision to life and we know this project will enrich the cultural fabric of Moscow and leave a lasting legacy of creativity and inspiration.

We invite you to view our website and social media pages to explore more about us and see examples of our previous works, and please contact us if you have any questions regarding our process or work. Thank you for considering us for this project and we look forward to the possibility of contributing to this space and community.

Sincerely,

ELLEN PICKEN

February 28, 2024

To the City of Moscow and MAC selection team,

Thank you so much for dedicating your time and energy to bringing artwork to our public spaces.

For the last decade I've been creating large scale public murals throughout the Northwest. I translate my dreams, relationships, and meditations into abstractions. River currents, constellations, raindrops, rhythm, melody, and relationships take on shape and color.

Though a resident of Spokane, I consider the larger ecosystem of North Idaho and Eastern Washington my home. I worked for several years in the forests of North Idaho, and my mother and father in-law reside in Pullman. For this mural, I would like to spend a week on the Palouse to see what images emerge through experience and dreams. I envision bright wave patterns like the fields and weather that rolls in.

My largest works are two to three stories tall but I design a mural the way I hike through the woods. The deep forested valleys are something to take in from the mountain top. Yet the little patch of moss at the base of a tree is just as fascinating. The artwork will impact the visitor who sees it once as much as the resident who lives with it every day.

My public art philosophy is to offer space for contemplation, to re-route the patterns of daily life to align with neighbors and nature. People are more than individuals, we create each other, we are always in relationship with each other.

I have been designing and installing large scale murals since 2014. Clients include New York Department of Transportation, PayPal, Adobe, Google, Volkswagen, NineDot Arts, Lift Partners, Peace Justice Action League of Spokane, Spokane Eastside Reunion Association, and Spokane Transit Authority among many. My work can be found in New York, San Jose, Seattle, and Spokane, Washington. I am included in the Portland Murals Roster, Washington State Public Art Roster, and Boise Murals Roster.

I am responsible for the entire budget of my projects, including insurance, lift equipment rental, materials, travel, design phases, and communications. I have to coordinate with the design teams that hire me, formen running the building site, construction workers, accountants, and my trusted paint suppliers. I have a good sense of project timing and have never gone past my estimated deadline, often finishing ahead of schedule (even with construction setbacks!)

I would absolutely love to create a welcoming and vibrant work of art for the people of Moscow.

Keep warm,

Museum of Urban Arts - Letter of Interest

To whom it may concern:

Chartered by the New York State Department of Education, Board of Regents on July 13, 2017, As a 501c3 non-profit educational corporation, institution of higher learning and state museum, Our Mission at Museum of Urban Arts is to establish, preserve and exhibit artworks from Urban Artists worldwide, while also serving as a cultural educational enrichment center and hub for community creativity. The Vision for the Museum of Urban Arts (MOUA) is to unite our communities through the arts featuring interactive exhibitions and immersive public art experiences.

Team MOUA is connected to local and immigrant artists worldwide and provides cultural education and enrichment through the exhibition of: Urban Fine Arts, Urban Contemporary Arts, Music, Dance, Sculptures, Arts Installations, Community Murals, Street Art, Graffiti, Performances, Historical Artifacts, Photography, Cinematography, Pop-up Events, Classes, Workshops, After-School Programs, Field trips, Community Art Gardens, Public Art and Neighborhood Beautification Projects and more.

The Museum of Urban Arts is also an advocate to the artists, youth and entrepreneurial community providing project opportunities, internships, residencies, artists creative and business resources, career assistance, business training and more.

The Museum of Urban Arts orchestrates art walks in multiple locations worldwide, collaborating with a collective of artists skilled in mural painting, sculpture, and innovative installations. Our focus extends beyond mere aesthetics; we craft stories within our artworks, ensuring a meaningful connection with viewers. We are particularly interested in participating in this public art project as it aligns with our passion for integrating public arts and community engagement.

Our team excels in creating artworks that tell compelling stories, contributing to a vibrant cultural tapestry. With a proven track record, we completed over 1,500 murals last year alone, showcasing our commitment to enhancing public spaces. We eagerly anticipate the opportunity for the Museum of Urban Arts' creative team to actively engage in this dynamic artistic dialogue. By participating in this project we aim to contribute our diverse talents and enrich the cultural fabric of the city and create a unique cultural enrichment experience for all.

I submitted a few of the artists that we work with but are connected to a multitude of creatives globally and can offer additional options if necessary. Also, the museum would be thrilled to possibly become a community partner to help curate if that is an option. We are excited and looking forward to the possibility of collaborating with the City of Moscow, Idaho on the Moscow Public Art at Jackson and A Streets.

My name is Stephanie Sulaiman, Museum Director at the Museum of Urban Arts and I will be the point of contact for our team. Please don't hesitate to reach out with any questions or concerns you may have. My email is stephaniesulaiman@gmail.com and my phone number is (718) 483-6022 .

Thank you in advance for your review and consideration.

Sincerely,,

MILA SKETCH | LETTER OF INTEREST

Hello Selection Committee,

I am Mila Sketch, a professional muralist in Austin, TX. I am excited to participate in RFQ for Moscow Public Art 2024: Mural at Jackson & A Streets (Round #1), Moscow, ID.
I am thrilled to create a dynamic and inspiring work that meets the needs of residents and visitors. This opportunity interests me because it can reach people not exposed to art daily. Art can offer alternative ways to view one's environment and provide inspiration to interact, connect, and utilize the spaces around it. I want to deliver a welcoming, comfortable, and supportive environment for everyone and highlight Moscow's spirit.

My artistic style is perfect for public art projects. I am known for detailed, often graphic art with contrasting colors and profound social messages. I have a solid ability to connect past and present with a bright projection into the future. My inspiration derives from nature and urban coexisting together. As a contemporary artist, I travel to stay updated with the most recent trades in the global public art movement.
My multicultural background enables me to create meaningful art dialogue through symbols easily understood by people of any age and origin. My complete academic art education enables me to work with various art mediums using different techniques, such as intricate digital graphics to murals.

I've installed over 60 large interior and exterior murals on brick, stucco, wood, plastic, and concrete in the USA and other countries. I am experienced in working with ladders, scaffolds & scissors, and boom lifts. I work with high-quality industrial fade-resistant acrylic paints, applying primer to the wall before the design installation. I install colors by using brushes and rollers. My artworks are expected to last twenty-five-plus years before any additional maintenance.

The major constraint I always anticipate when working on the exterior mural is weather, notably rain. I usually work without days off, utilizing the daylight as much as possible to power through the installation while the weather allows. I also can work with my portable light after dark to meet the completion timeline.
The surface can be a constraint because it is hard to tell how much paint the wall will absorb before you start painting it. My murals are perfectly even and rich, so some walls can take several layers of paint to reach the desired color consistency, while others are perfect with only one layer of paint.

I possess a solid ability to manage budgets and the installation process professionally. I have a successful track record of urban-sited and integrated public artworks in multiple cities with municipal, nonprofit, and private clients. I have experience working promptly with large project budgets (over $90,000) and actual square footage (over 3500 SQFT).

I love to relate important history to our times and project to the future. In 2018, I worked on the public mural commission "Honoring the Past and Innovating the Future" for Georgetown, TX. I created a final mural reflecting vital historical objects, significant modern buildings, and futuristic infrastructure. The impact of public art spoke for itself. I received many endorsement letters, thank-you messages, and appreciation letters from Georgetown resident

I am eager to use my artistic experience in public art to develop crunchy, innovative ideas to reflect the spirit of play, celebration, and transformation at the core of the Moscow community. I am open to collaborating on project input and development with the The City of Moscow, the Moscow Arts Commission team, and the community.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely yours,
Mila Sketch

Letter of Interest: City of Moscow Mural Project

To the esteemed members of the City of Moscow and the Moscow Arts Commission,

I am thrilled to present my proposal for a large-scale mural that seeks to embody the vibrant essence and diverse faces of Moscow's community. My concept involves crafting portraits that represent the broad spectrum of the city's inhabitants, from the youthful vibrancy of its students to the wisdom of its lifelong residents, all gazing towards the picturesque landscapes that cradle Moscow.

My artistic approach employs a vivid color palette and dynamic street art style, ensuring the mural captures attention and resonates with the community's spirit. My adaptability and commitment to realizing a shared vision are among my core strengths. I deeply value engaging with the community and incorporating their feedback, ensuring the final artwork is a collective emblem of Moscow's rich cultural and social fabric.

Given the scale and complexity, I anticipate a completion timeline of approximately 3 weeks. My experience with similar projects has honed my ability to work efficiently without compromising quality, ensuring the mural's timely and impactful realization within the allocated budget.

I am excited about the possibility of contributing to Moscow's visual and cultural landscape, creating a mural that becomes a source of pride and inspiration for the community.

Warm regards,

Walter Portz

About me

I am a passionate and experienced mural artist with a deep-rooted commitment to engaging local communities and organizations in the collaborative creation of murals that embody their values, ideals, and collective visions. With a rich background spanning graffiti art, photography, digital art, AI art and fine arts, as well as Augmented Reality installations, coupled with a specialization in expressive, large-scale portraits, I aim to continue leveraging my diverse skill set and 20+ years of artistic exploration to produce impactful public art. My goal is to facilitate transformative projects that not only beautify spaces but also foster a sense of identity, unity, and pride among community members, making art an accessible and integral part of their environment.

Education

- Bachelor of Fine Arts, University of Minnesota, 1999

Professional Experience

Mural Artist
Self-Employed, Sioux Falls, SD and Waxhaw, NC, May 2023 - Present
- Designed and completed 10 large-scale murals that reflect community values and ideas, enhancing public spaces and fostering local identity.
- Specialized in creating detailed, large-scale portraits, utilizing over 20 years of experience in photography to capture and depict intricate facial expressions and emotions.
- Worked closely with community members and stakeholders to conceptualize and execute murals that resonate with local narratives and aspirations.
- Experimented with various mediums and techniques, including stencil styles, to achieve desired aesthetic outcomes, demonstrating flexibility and a commitment to artistic growth.

• Experimenting with the addition of technology to the mural making process including Artificial Intelligence and Augmented Reality.

Fine Artist & Photographer
Self-Employed, [Location], 2000 - Present
• Developed and exhibited fine art and photography collections, focusing on the nuanced storytelling of human expressions and interactions.• Transitioned from graffiti to fine arts and photography due to legal constraints, showcasing adaptability and resilience in evolving artistic expression.

Graffiti Artist (Not a profession, more of a nuisance)
Midwest, 1990s
• Initiated unsanctioned art making expressions as a graffiti artist, contributing to the urban landscape through vibrant, expressive street art.
• Faced legal challenges that prompted a shift towards legal artistic endeavors, underscoring a journey of personal and professional growth.

Projects
Spectral Flux (Downtown Sioux Falls Partnership), Levitt at the Falls Mural (Sioux Falls Skatepark Association Benefit), Bull of Wall Street and Lady Liberty (privately commissioned murals), The Kids (Sioux Falls School District murals), Climber (privately commissioned work), The Cows (privately commissioned murals), Urban Chislic (privately commissioned murals), Skills

• Artistic Techniques: Proficiency in a range of mediums including spray paint, acrylics, and digital tools for mural creation. Augmented Reality integrations in artistic murals (view examples with iPhone here). Allowing the opportunity for murals to come alive into the space.

• Adaptability: Openness to exploring new artistic styles and mediums, with a proven track record of adapting to new challenges and environments.

• Communication and Public Interaction: With years of skatepark advocacy experience I am able to engage with community while painting the mural, getting kids and families involved as appropriate. Currently working on a proposal to bring to life poems of 6-8 young poets from my hometown to use as undercurrent for a 300 foot long mural wall.

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter to recommend Mr. Walter Portz as a mural artist for Spectral Flux in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. I have had the pleasure of collaborating with Walter on this mural project, and I can attest to his exceptional talent, dedication, and professionalism in the field of mural art.

Walter Portz is a visionary artist and volunteer whose work has left a lasting impact on both the local community and those who have had the privilege of experiencing his art. His ability to transform blank canvases into captivating, thought-provoking, and visually stunning works of art is remarkable. I have witnessed his commitment to creating mural art and his unwavering dedication to ensuring that each project he undertakes is unique and memorable.

In addition to his artistic prowess, Walter is a pleasure to work with. He is a great communicator, always open to feedback, and willing to collaborate with others, clients, and community to ensure that his work aligns with the vision and needs of the project. His willingness to collaborate was essential in bringing this mural to reality. His professionalism, reliability, and ability to meet deadlines are qualities that make him an excellent choice. He brings not only his artistic skills but also his passion for enhancing appearance by adding art to public space.

I wholeheartedly recommend Walter Portz as a mural artist for his work on Spectral Flux. His work will undoubtedly leave a profound and positive impression on your community also. Please feel free to contact me if you require any further information or have additional questions regarding Mr. Walter Portz.

Sincerely,

RE: Recommendation and Support Letter

I am writing in support of Walter Portz in recommendation of the mural project that he recently completed for the City of Sioux Falls. I cannot say enough about the positive experience that we had working with Walter on this project.

What started as a chance encounter with Walter at lunch, went from initial concept to project completion in a matter of a couple months. Working with Walter was easy, flexible, and expedient. He reviewed nearly a hundred potential images with our development team to find just the right piece that would "fit" the project space.

Our project team consisted of the City, the Washington Pavilion of Arts and Sciences (a local non profit), and a willing donor that helped pay for the mural to be completed. Walter worked extremely well in balancing all of the feedback and recommendations, often adjusting images up until completion to have just the right mural for this public space. He willingly made adjustments to the mural, as needed, based on feedback he was receiving. He was extremely easy to work with in terms of completing the necessary legal documents as well as all the logistics to complete the mural.

During the implementation phase, Walter worked day and night to finish the piece in a matter of weeks. We could not be happier with the completed work or the way that Walter handled every facet of this process. We would definitely work with Walter on any future projects, and I have no concerns in expressing a strong recommendation of support based on our experience. I think that if you chose to work with Walter, you would be very pleased with the entire process, as well as the final product.

I am very happy to discuss our experiences working with Walter further as I was highly involved from the very beginning of this process. Please feel free to reach out at anytime at 605-376-4795 (cell) or by email at spritchett@siouxfalls.org.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this let er to wholeheartedly recommend Walter Portz for any mural project or artistic endeavor. Having had the privilege of collaborating with Walter on numerous projects over the past year, including a public-private mural, I can at est to his exceptional talents, unwavering commitment, and outstanding contributions to our community.

One of Walter's most remarkable qualities is his speed and consistent delivery of high-quality work. It is inspiring to witness the way he transforms blank canvases into breathtaking works of art within tight deadlines. Despite the fast-paced nature of our projects, Walter consistently maintained an exceptional level of precision and detail, ensuring that the art met our expectations. Walter was patient and open to feedback as we developed designs that fully encompassed what we had envisioned.

Moreover, Walter excels not only in his creative prowess but also in his ability to foster meaningful relationships within the community. He has an innate talent for connecting with people from all walks of life. His warm and approachable demeanor allows him to collaborate effectively with diverse groups, organizations, and individuals, making his artwork accessible and relatable to everyone. This was apparent on the parking ramp mural, as Walter was able to make meaningful connections to many onlookers who would stop to admire his work and watch his process, including those from the transient population. While working in our office, Walter made similar connections to our employees.

What truly sets Walter apart is his unwavering dedication to the bet erment of our community. He consistently seeks opportunities to use his talents to inspire, educate, and uplift the people in our area. Whether it's creating murals that depict our community's history, working with local schools to engage young artists, or participating in charity events and fundraising, Walter always places the well-being of the communities in which he lives and works at the forefront of his artistic endeavors.

In conclusion, I fully endorse Walter for your next project. He has demonstrated time and time again his exceptional skills, professionalism, and dedication to making our world a more beautiful and connected place through art.

At ached are images of the works of art that we are fortunate to be able to admire and enjoy each day. If you have any further questions or require additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me at arin.gonseth@marketbeatmail.com. I am more than willing to provide further insights into Walter's remarkable abilities and contributions.

Sincerely,

Image. Mural on the side of a public parking ramp; funded by private donor, MarketBeat, and painted by artist, Walter Portz.

Process. Included collaboration between City of Sioux Falls, Washington Pavilion, private donor, and artist to work through design process and come up with mural that all could enjoy. It was the goal of all to create a mural that would beautify our downtown, without any underlying political, economic, or social agendas. The area in front of the mural has been activated through the creation of green space, places to sit and mingle, and was the home of Winter Weekends in Downtown Sioux Falls for a few months this winter.

Image. Mural, painted by artist Walter Portz, in the west elevator lobby of MarketBeat's new office in the Bancorp Building. Depicts the New York Stock Exchange building in NYC, along with the infamous Charging Bull (or Bull of Wall Street).

Image. Mural, painted by artist Walter Portz, on the east side of MarketBeat's new office in the Bancorp Building. Depicts the Statue of Liberty, along with New York City skyline. Bringing the Spirit of Moscow to Life: A Letter of Interest to Paint a Mural

Are you ready to witness the vibrant spirit of the community of Moscow come to life in a stunning mural? Imagine walking into the City of Moscow building located at Jackson & A Streets and being greeted by a breathtaking masterpiece that captures the essence of this unique city. As an artist with a deep connection to the Palouse region, I am thrilled to present my letter of interest in painting a mural that will truly reflect the heart and soul of Moscow. Moscow, a city that rises from the fertile ground of the Palouse, is a place where water, seeds, and soil come together to create a landscape of unparalleled beauty. From the rolling wheat hills to the majestic moose that roam the land, Moscow is a place where nature and community intertwine in perfect harmony. It is this harmony that I aim to capture in my mural, celebrating the rich tapestry of life that defines this city.

The Vision for the Mural

My vision for the mural is to create a piece of art that not only showcases the natural beauty of Moscow but also pays homage to the vibrant community that calls this city home. I envision a mural that features the rolling wheat hills of the Palouse, the graceful moose that roam the land, and the diverse people who make up the fabric of Moscow. Each element will be intricately woven together to create a visual symphony that truly captures the essence of this remarkable city.

Thank you,

Bill Louis

Letter of Interest

I am very excited about the possibility of working on the City of Moscow Mural Project. I enjoy being a part of projects that are specifically aimed at leveraging art to transform public spaces. I have seen first hand how these types of projects can bring about positive change and how public art can have an uplifting affect on the people who come in contact with it. I also think my abstract style with bold patterns and shapes will work well to provide an eye-catching design that will become an Instagramable landmark for both locals and visitors alike.

I have worked on over 60 murals in 14 states. I have been a featured artist for Basel House Mural Festival in Miami, I started a local initiative that helped revitalize the Murray Hill neighborhood of Jacksonville by installing more than 20 murals in graffiti prone areas, and one of my murals even set a Guinness World Record for largest 3D painting. I have had murals voted "Best Public Art" in Jacksonville on three occasions, I have worked with comedian Josh Blue, a finalist on NBC's America's Got Talent, and was featured on ESPN for my mural with NFL quarterback Baker Mayfield.

I look forward to working with you, and thank you for your consideration,

"Where's The Water" is a source of joy and inspiration, weaving beautiful works of art that carry a heavy impact on the community. As the founder of Where's The Water Creative Studio and an acclaimed artist hailing from North Philadelphia, I, "WET," have garnered significant recognition for my extraordinary journey from graffiti to crafting awe-inspiring, realistic fantasy murals. With exceptional talent and a captivating artistic vision, my murals have etched an indelible mark across the country, showcasing a unique ability to seamlessly blend realism with fantastical elements. My name "WET" is associated with the acronym "Walk Everywhere Tall," introducing another layer of intrigue to my artistic persona.

During my graffiti-writing days, I delved into the culture and the underground aspects of this art form. Despite its inherent beauty, I felt a sense of lacking. This realization became a driving force in my artistic journey—to continually push forward, seeking more. This theme of progression is recurrent in my art, a mantra to keep moving forward. It has resonated profoundly with diverse communities worldwide, fostering a connection through my artistic expression. Bringing this life of artistic inspiration to the city would be a genuine honor.

The transformative power of art is evident in my evolution from graffiti to murals, a journey that reflects personal growth and a commitment to artistic exploration. The murals I create transcend mere aesthetics, telling stories that resonate with the viewers on a deeper level. The ability to seamlessly blend realism with fantastical elements in my work creates a visual narrative that captivates and inspires.

Within the domain of public arts, I've engaged in several extensive projects that required the use of lifts, and I have the necessary certification for this. Heights have never been a concern for me, ensuring that the execution of monumental projects progresses smoothly. A notable example is my recent significant project in Philadelphia, where a 50-foot lift was employed, highlighting my profound familiarity with the equipment.

The association of "WET" with "Walk Everywhere Tall" not only adds an intriguing layer to my identity but also reflects the ethos of resilience and upward mobility present in my artistic philosophy. This connection goes beyond a mere acronym; it symbolizes the spirit of perseverance and the determination to rise above challenges, echoing in the visual tales I weave on walls.

As I continue my artistic journey, the desire to share this narrative of progress and inspiration with communities worldwide remains a driving force. Every mural is an opportunity to contribute to the collective visual language of a city, leaving a legacy of creativity and motivation for those who encounter it. The prospect of bringing this unique blend of realism, fantasy, and a commitment to progress to the city is both a privilege and a profound responsibility.

Artist Bio

"WET" is a renowned artist hailing from North Philadelphia who successfully transitioned from graffiti to painting awe-inspiring, realistic fantasy images. WET meaning "Walk Everywhere Tall". Known for his incredible talent and artistic vision, WET's work can be found across the country, showcasing his ability to blend realism with fantastical elements. His Claim to fame over the past year has been going to different cities and painting his colorful portraits highlighting celebrities from the area.

After gaining recognition for his canvas art, WET embarked on a new artistic journey, focusing on larger-scale murals that mesmerize viewers with their intricate details and vibrant colors. His unique style, which combines elements of fantasy with realistic imagery, sets him apart from other artists in the field.

WET's artistic prowess and captivating murals garnered significant attention, leading to his first art show titled "The Language of Color" at Space 1026. The exhibition drew large crowds, further solidifying WET's reputation as an artist to watch. The show was a resounding success, with enthusiastic art enthusiasts and collectors purchasing pieces of WET's artwork on display.

Following the triumph of his debut art show, WET's career continued to flourish. He was invited to exhibit his work at the prestigious Philadelphia Flower Show, showcasing his artistic talent alongside stunning floral arrangements. Additionally, WET was bestowed the honor of creating the largest mural in the Manayunk area of Philadelphia, further cementing his status as a prominent muralist.

Through his innovative approach to blending fantasy and realism, WET continues to captivate audiences with his breathtaking canvases and murals. His journey from graffiti artist to creating realistic fantasy artworks has propelled him to national recognition, and his success at various exhibitions and mural projects attests to his immense skill and growing influence in the art world.

Please describe the artist team structure and membership.	My partner Charles Clear and I are award winning Rhode Island based Artists, who specialize in hand-painted murals and hand-crafted mosaics. We have worked together as a team for over 20 years, and though we have similar styles and abilities, we also have unique personal strengths that increase the potency of our collaboration. Together we've created hundreds of works on everything from the sides of buildings to walls, ceilings, and floors, and we have often partnered with architects, designers, planners, and contractors on public art projects. When professionals work together towards a common goal, their unique personal strengths, styles, and abilities increase the potency of the collaboration. As you will see in our submitted images, our specialty is murals that are big, bright, and colorful, with warm, rich tones.

THE ART OF LIFE

Bonnie Lee Turner & Charles C. Clear III
(401) 722-8299 • wow@theartoflife.com
theartoflife.com

For over three decades, we have immersed ourselves in the vibrant world of mural art, harnessing our passion and expertise to bring life-affirming themes to the forefront. With meticulous attention to detail, we create expansive and captivating murals that evoke a sense of joy, wonder, and the innate beauty of existence.

Throughout our artistic journey, we have been driven by a profound belief in the power of art to inspire and uplift the human spirit. Our murals serve as visual narratives, telling stories that embrace the full spectrum of human experience, from the simple joys of everyday life to the profound and transformative moments that shape our very being.

Each mural we create is a labor of love, meticulously crafted with a dedication to capturing the essence of life's beauty. Every stroke of paint, every intricate detail is carefully considered to convey the depth and richness of the subjects we portray. Our aim is to create a visual symphony that harmoniously weaves together colors, shapes, and forms, resonating with viewers on both an emotional and intellectual level.

As experienced mural artists, we have had the privilege of collaborating with communities, organizations, and individuals, transforming blank walls into vibrant, immersive experiences. The process of creating murals is not only an act of artistic expression but also a catalyst for meaningful connections and dialogue. We believe that art has the power to bring people together, sparking conversations that transcend language, culture, and differences.

With each new mural, we embark on a journey to capture the essence of life's beauty, seeking to leave an indelible mark on both physical spaces and the hearts of those who encounter our art. Through our commitment to craftsmanship and the exploration of life-affirming themes, we hope to inspire a sense of wonder, gratitude, and a renewed appreciation for the extraordinary gift of existence. We are especially excited by this project, and it would be an honor to work with you and to create an extraordinary work of art to capture the spirit of and to celebrate Moscow’s culture and history, and to inspire, engage, and give the viewer a sense of pride and place!

Thank you for considering us for this project. We are brimming with ideas – and we look forward to the opportunity to contribute our artistic vision for a special Mural at Jackson & A Streets!

Letter of Interest:

For the mural at Jackson & A, I'm interested in painting a visual narrative that will demonstrate a unique sense of past and present celebrating elements of Moscow history, nostalgia, natural beauty, industry, and civic pride. The intent of this project is to encourage ingenuity and stimulate creative growth in Moscow by capturing an intriguing timeline of the city that's not only visually enticing, but also tells a great story.

My recent mural practice focuses heavily on site-responsive aesthetics. I'm most passionate about creating murals that render a particular community through a variety of texts, patterns, and illustrations inspired by historic and nostalgic imagery as well as the different people who occupy or frequent the space. This unique practice of combining localized elements synonymous with nostalgia and community is my attempt at connecting with a broad range of locals while simultaneously educating them and visitors alike.

It's ideal for those familiar with the area to have an instant connection with certain elements in the artwork, but ultimately I'd like the viewer to learn something new about Moscow that they didn't already know until seeing the mural for the first time.

When painting in a city that's unfamiliar to me like Moscow, client and or community based input is encouraged during the design phase, but not required. Although I value a considerable amount of trust and creative freedom, client/community input can be an integral component in the execution of a successful composition and is something I've had positive experiences with in recent public art projects.

As of late I've been engaged with community surveys regarding what residents would like to see in their neighborhood. Not only does this strategy allow me to draw inspiration directly from the source and structure my imagery around the ideas of local voices, but it also gives community members an opportunity to be a part of the design stage. Once again, the element of community engagement is not required.

In Moscow I'd like to execute my process in a way that educates, honors, and preserves in an aesthetically pleasing manner easily accessible to the greater community and beyond. I'm looking to create and combine imagery that's uniquely Moscow and pays homage to the region's most significant touchstones in a singular composition that's 100 percent original and native to the location.

Completed Mural Projects Index:

1. The Boom Town That Forgot To Bust!
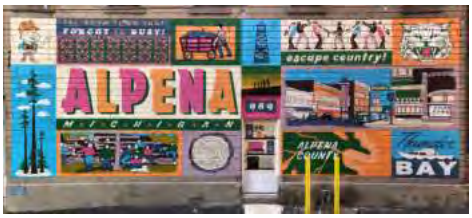
117 N 2nd Ave, Alpena, MI
Acrylic & Aerosol on Brick
38'w x 14'h = 532 Sqft
Client: Alpena Downtown Development Authority
Budget: $8,500
2023



Nestled right on Thunder Bay in Northern Michigan, Alpena has stood the test of time in its relentless effort towards reinvention and industrial advancement. The Boom Town That Forgot To Bust celebrates Alpena's rich industrial roots in the lumber trade, concrete block manufacturing, and mining. Outside of Alpena's long standing industrial corridors are industries largely dominated by outdoor recreation and the redevelopment of its historic downtown. To name a few activities, hiking, watersports, dark sky preserves, live music, and downtown dining are not to be slept on while visiting Alpena.

2-2a. Hometown U.S.A.
207 Glen St, Glens Falls, NY
Acrylic & Aerosol on Brick
130'w x 8'h = 1,040 sqft
Client: Arts District of Glens Falls
Budget: $31,000
2022

Coined by Look Magazine as "Hometown U.S.A." for its embodiment of the quintessential small town in America during the war efforts of the early/mid 1940's, Glens Falls, NY still holds those values today. By virtue of the mural's narrow dimensions and humble sightlines, Hometown U.S.A. takes on the role of a concise walking tour of Glens Falls history spanning the width of an entire city block and renders 37 distinct images of significant people, events and landmarks.

3. Try Seymour First
127 W Second St, Seymour, IN
Acrylic & Aerosol on Brick
40'w x 25'h = 1,000 sqft
Client: Seymour Main Street
Budget: $30,000
2021

Try Seymour First is an illustrative timeline depicting nostalgic imagery you're not likely to source on Wikipedia or in a typical Google search, but ask anyone in town about the Ulrey brothers or the Stardust drive-in and you're in for some great stories. It's those stories I wanted to uncover in a way that's not only thought provoking, but also familiar amongst locals. Each of the 25 elements are an honest testament to Seymour's vibrant history and continuously growing legacy in southern Indiana.

4. Osky
113 High Ave E, Oskaloosa, IA
Acrylic & Aerosol on Brick
24'w x 12'h = 288 sqft
Client: Fine Arts & Cultural Events of Mahaska County
Budget: $8,000
2021

An original blend of nostalgic and musical content that intertwines Oskaloosa's rich musical heritage, influential residents, industry, and signage. Each element in the composition is native to Oskaloosa demonstrating its continuous effort to support local and preserve the past while simultaneously paving new creative avenues for future generations and most importantly, future "Osky's".

5. Beauty Bar Marquee
1444 W Chicago Ave, Chicago, IL
Acrylic & Aerosol on Metal & Cinder Block
29'w x 4'h = 116 sqft
Client: Beauty Bar Chicago
Budget: $6,000
2019

The marquee is a combination of found and original imagery used to represent the vibrancy and nostalgia of a retro themed Chicago dance club. The text functions as a nod to those who frequent the establishment and makes a commentary on the experience one might expect for an evening at the Beauty Bar. The pattern work and illustrations reference a vintage beauty parlor while depicting the excitement and energy within a modern dance club.

PROPOSAL FOR MOSCOW PUBLIC ART 2024: MURAL AT JACKSON & A STREETS (RFQ)

Dear Selection Panel,

We, Cara Aisha and Kada Goalen, are thrilled to present our proposal for the Moscow Public Art 2024: Mural at Jackson & A Streets Project

Drawing upon our combined expertise and passion for creating transformative artworks, we are deeply inspired by the opportunity to contribute to the celebration of history through art. This project aligns perfectly with our shared commitment to translating visions into captivating visual expressions that resonate with communities.

As local artists deeply rooted in our respective communities, our collaboration brings together a wealth of experience and a shared dedication to creating impactful murals that tell stories and evoke emotions.

CARA
With roots in Idaho, shaped by her upbringing in the state, Cara brings a profound connection to the land and its people to our partnership. Her artistic vision is guided by a deep appreciation for the beauty and poetic juxtapositions found in the natural landscape of Idaho. Drawing from her experiences and inspirations, Cara infuses her artwork with vibrancy and depth, creating pieces that speak to the heart and soul of the community.

KADA
With over 20 years of experience as a mural artist, Kada has honed her craft in bringing visions to life through vibrant and dynamic art. Her extensive portfolio includes collaborations with a diverse range of clients, from individual homeowners to large organizations and communities. Kada's expertise lies in deeply listening to her clients' hopes and visions, translating them into captivating artworks that reflect their unique voice and identity.

Together, we are committed to creating a mural that celebrates the rich history and heritage of the Moscow Public Art 2024: Mural at Jackson & A Streets Project. We will work collaboratively to develop a design that honors the site's iconic significance and resonates with the community and region. Drawing from our collective strengths and expertise, we will ensure that the artwork not only reflects the project's values and vision but also engages and inspires all who encounter it.

Thank you for considering our submission. We are excited about the opportunity to contribute to this meaningful project and look forward to the possibility of collaborating with you.

Warm regards, Cara Aisha and Kada Goalen

LAKE STREET AND 35W METRO TRANSIT STATION

LAKE STREET AND 35W METRO TRANSIT STATION

MEDIUM: ACRYLIC | MINNEAPOLIS, MN | COMPLETED: 2023

For this project, I was commissioned by Metro Transit to enhance the 35W and Lake Street Station in Minneapolis through the creation of two large-scale murals. These murals were strategically placed on the pillars and hide walls, utilizing the station's unique architectural elements as a canvas. The artwork captures the energy and vibrancy of Lake Street, featuring native bird species set against bold color palettes. The project was a collaborative effort involving a team of local apprentices who assisted in realizing this design and artistic vision. In addition, a specialized contribution came from Stacia Goodman Mosaics, who integrated mosaic elements into the bird wings, adding a subtle but impactful shimmer to the overall design. The completed murals now serve as enhancements for the Metro Transit station, contributing to a more engaging, pleasant, and welcoming environment for daily commuters and visitors alike.

LAKE STREET & 35W METRO TRANSIT STATION

LAKE STREET AND 35W METRO TRANSIT STATION END CAPS

MEDIUM: ACRYLIC | MINNEAPOLIS, MN | COMPLETED: 2023

The great mysterious weave of life brought me back to the very block of this huge city where years ago on my first visit to Minneapolis, I experienced a completely unexpected, deep resonance with the indigenous Mexico part of me. I felt family. I've been to many places, but this neighborhood has an unexplainable thread with me. Years later, I had the supreme pleasure and honor to create my own murals here thanks to my sweet sister, friend, and amazing artist Kada. When I realized I was painting on the same block that mattered so many years ago, the healing and gratitude deepened. The genuine love and appreciation I received from people in that neighborhood for my art, brought me to tears many times. This piece is about weaving, baskets, and life. Sacred forms and life paths. Many peoples and many stories. I love this neighborhood. The Moth is about the vibrancy of life and reaching for the light.

GLACIAL VALLEY PARK

GLACIAL VALLEY PARK MURAL

MEDIUM: ACRYLIC. | DIMENSIONS: 10' X 21' X 0' | COTTAGE GROVE, MN | COMPLETED: 2023 |

For the Glacial Valley Park Building Project in Cottage Grove, time layers intertwine as bold graphics recall ancient glaciers, wildlife, and fossils whispering past tales. Vivid depictions of today's valley and fauna invite sustainability and exploration, providing a journey through Glacial Valley's history and celebrating its enduring natural splendor. The park building sought to honor the land's glacial history while also celebrating the vibrancy of the land today, creating a dynamic and engaging mural that reflects the rich tapestry of the area's past and present

I had the privilege of collaborating with the St. Anthony Park Community Council (SAPCC) on this corner mural project, spanning two sides of the Murphy Rigging building. SAPCC provided me with the opportunity to showcase the diverse range of my artistic styles and abilities. With the mural, I aimed to seamlessly blend realism, graphic design, softness, and geometric elements. I found inspiration in the vibrant colors and geometry, which were beautifully juxtaposed with the intricate black-and-white details and delicate flowers. Striking a balance between these contrasting elements is a hallmark of my artistic approach, and I was thrilled to incorporate this harmony into the mural. Working closely with SAPCC allowed me to align the mural with the desires and vision of the local businesses and community. It was an incredible experience to collaborate and bring their wishes to life, ultimately contributing to the enhancement of the corner and fostering a sense of pride and connection within the community.

PLACE VIA SOL MURAL

MEDIUM: ACRYLIC | DIMENSIONS: 36' X 12' X 0' | MINNEAPOLIS, MN | COMPLETED: 2022

PLACE VIA SOL is a mixed-income, transit-oriented development that features the arts and affordable living opportunities. I was commissioned to create a mural that reflected the value and vision of this new location. This mural features flora and fauna native to Minnesota with characteristics and meanings that represent the values of Place Via Sol. This four story mural was such an honor to create.

My goal is to bring a welcoming and contemporary scientific illustration aesthetic to Moscow and the greater Palouse area. I seek to create graphic, lively images that connect with the residents, while creating a visually pleasing atmosphere that pairs well and celebrates the region's native flora and fauna. Over the last several years I have found my calling and love of painting outdoors as a way to collaborate and mentor young artists, contribute to my home state, and help build a visual icon for the local community.

As an artist, I seek to create a composition that embodies the sweeping movement, creativity, and patience that I display throughout my work whether scientific illustration or murals. One of the greatest joys is to hear people reach out to me and express gratitude for contributing to their neighborhood or town. Creating murals is a fantastic way of breaking the traditional boundaries of art and allows everyone to enjoy it regardless of background.

One of my most recent murals was through the City of McCall's Art Department. The mural ties into two primary species—Balsamorhiza, and the North American River Otter, with guest appearances of a painted turtle and trout fries. Balsamorhiza holds a special place to the local indigenous tribes for it's medical purposes, but also to the local community of McCall as the first flower in spring. I wanted to showcase a lesser-known species, like the River Otter, that doesn't get a lot of attention in the area (unlike say the bear or moose). And it proved to be fun to combine a land dominant and a water dominant species in one composition together. I hope that the mural acts as an opportunity to teach our children about the species stealthily occupy the space that we live in. Public art is a great investment in not only exposing people to Art, but as a tool to educate our populace on science and social issues.

I have experience installing on several surfaces ranging from 19th century brick, concrete surfaces, and primed walls. I am adept at using machinery including scaffolding and scissor lifts to aid in the installation of the murals. I have used a number of primers, paints, and finishes. I have built an invaluable, experienced team that I have worked with several projects that I can rely on to bring my vision alive. Weather permitting, I often finish ahead of schedule.

When I am not painting, I prioritize mentorship. I didn't have many mentors or people to look up to artistically in the Treasure Valley and had to figure it out myself, so I always try to be there for the next generation. I have mentored several kids from Sage International and Nampa High School before they pursue higher education and will do demos with classes on specific mediums like Gouache or acrylic. I also bring new people onto mural projects in order to help the broader Idaho art community when I can afford it or need extra hands.

Though trained as a scientific illustrator, I have worked on several different public art pieces, books, editorial, interpretive panels, journal illustrations, scientific diagrams, and fine art pieces. I am a graduate of the Scientific Illustration graduate program at California State University, Monterey Bay. Prior to that, I received a degree in Narrative Art and Design from Minneapolis College of Art and Design (MCAD).

I believe that art is for everyone and that murals create a vibrant sense of place and group identity. Moscow is a wonderful place to call home for many individuals and I want to foster that sense of pride and belonging while honoring the animals and plants that existed here long before we did. I would be honored to create murals for Moscow in a community that means so much to so many people.

I would be thrilled to work with the Project Team to create impactful artwork for The City of Moscow. I'm moved by the project's goals, and I know my experience and passion for it will allow me to exceed expectations.

My approach to this project and public art in general is rooted in collaboration and community engagement. I have previously worked with diverse neighborhoods to understand their values and creative preferences. I will work with the Project Team to ensure the artwork best represents the Moscow community while putting my creative spin on the project. This collaborative process of listening to the stakeholders' perspectives, combined with my unique art style, will make for a truly special piece of art.

I have created site-specific public murals nationwide for public art organizations, government agencies, neighborhood improvement programs, and more. I've consistently received glowing feedback regarding bringing the artistic vision to life, connecting with communities, and managing a project's budget, timeline, and general demands.

If chosen, I'm confident in my art skills and know I would be an asset to this project. I would be grateful to work with the Project Team in designing art that honors the community. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Statement of Interest

Moscow Mural at Jackson & A Project

Uplifting and aesthetically enhancing communities across the country has been my focus for the past 15 years. The Mural at Jackson & A Project is of particular interest to me in its ability to visually explore and showcase the rich cultural history and natural bounty of Moscow. I would love the opportunity to connect, research and learn more about the area and its residents to visual inform a representative and inclusive piece of artwork. I have years of experience in public art and community engagement, working on numerous public art projects for municipalities with budgets ranging from $20,000-$80,000 and believe my skills aligns well with the Mural at Jackson & A Project.

The history of cultural identity and our human connection to nature are constant themes within my work and align well with this project. As a Chinese American born and raised in the South, my path towards self identity is constantly changing and I find the process of cultural research, community engagement and public art high rewarding and often cathartic - a beautiful side-effect of creating art for the masses. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Medium: Latex + Spray paint | Location: Durham, NC

Commissioned by City of Durham + DHIC | Budget: $30,000

This piece explores the history of the site as natural, forested land and territory of indigenous tribes prior to 1700. The Piedmont was home to several groups of the Sioux Nation including the Eno, Shocco, Adshusheer and Occaneechi Indians, who occupied areas in-and-around present day Durham, NC. European settlement decimated these tribes and by the early 1700s all native settlements had virtually disappeared from the area. Approximately 1,100 of the remaining Indians indigneous to the piedmont have come together as one under the Occaneechi Band of the Saponi Nation and currently reside in Orange and Alamance Counties.

Through a combination of natural symbols, traditional geometric patterns and organic colors, this piece honors the land and its original inhabitants. Anchored by an indigenous red-tailed hawk, the symbol of the Occaneechi Band of the Saponi Nation, with its heart exposed representing vulnerable life-force, surrounded by other indigenous species (white-tailed deer, luna moth, chimney swift, magnolia flowers) including the first human inhabitants; Native Americans.

I worked directly with the Occaneechi Band of the Saponi Nation Tribal Council for their guidance and blessing. The theme of the mural was achieved through a community engagement plan that i led over the course of 2 months.

“Interwoven” (2022) by Gabriel Eng-Goetz

Medium: Latex + Spray paint | Location: Morganton, NC

Commissioned by Burke Arts + NC Arts Council | Budget: $30,000

In this piece you will see sets of hands stitching the past and present across layers of embroidered fabric. All types of people, lifestyles, industry and nature are represented in traditional and multicultural artistic styles. From a distance the viewer can see a vast mountain range and lake horizon, however upon closer inspection the history and people of Burke County come to life in the details, ideally presenting an inclusive future of progress and acknowledgment.

After 6 weeks of community engagement with Burke County residents I received 380 digital responses and recorded over 220 individual in-person responses from an array of people within Burke County. I made a concerted effort to speak to all demographics, especially those of historically marginalized status. The overwhelming response was the request for nature themed imagery, however the themes of history, storytelling and diversity all gained strong interest as well. After combining this feedback with my own research, sharing and consulting with my advisory board and attempting to view it all through an artistic lens, I found that one art form truly binds these themes together; textiles. It starts with the history of the textile industry in Burke County and moves through the generations, transcending across multiple cultures, each with their own unique style and customs. I found that textiles have the strong ability to tell a story - in particular Hmong embroidery, which uses narrative, illustrative elements to connect culture.

“Life Flow” (2022) by Gabriel Eng-Goetz

Medium: Latex + Spray paint | Location: Columbia, NC

Commissioned by Pocosin Arts + NC Arts Council | Budget: $30,000

This mural features species of flora and fauna existing harmoniously within the Scuppernong River, Alligator river and Albemarle Sound ecosystem. These species include pitcher plants, scuppernong grapes, egrets, river otters, blue crabs, sunfish and dragonflies. Subtle human elements can be seen as well; crabbing rope, coastal homes and a Carolina Skiff all represent the lifestyle and livelihood that the County’s land and water provides. The mix of bold color, organic imagery and storytelling details combine to invite the viewer to experience and learn about what makes this unique corner of North Carolina so special and why its culture and natural resources must be preserved for future generations to enjoy.

After several weeks of research and community engagement with the wonderful people of Tyrrell County, the themes of nature, diversity, storytelling, history and the future were the top requests (in that order). Combining this feedback with my own research, I concluded that the ecology of Tyrrell County is what truly binds the community and provides economic opportunity for its residents.
It all starts with the agriculture and fishing/crabbing industries, which have thrived for generations, transcending cultural demographics to provide sustenance and income. As the area continues to develop and grow its ecotourism offerings with protected lands and wildlife centers, the economy is shifting in a new direction, however the correlation between healthy, natural habitat and economic opportunity remains strongly interconnected.

STATEMENT OF INTEREST

To the esteemed members of the Moscow Arts Commission and the City of Moscow,
I am writing to express my profound interest in the mural project at the intersection of Jackson & A Streets, a commission that promises to illuminate the vibrant spirit of the Moscow community. I approach this opportunity not only as an artist but also as a storyteller eager to weave the tales of the Palouse into a visual celebration of play, celebration, and transformation.

As an artist who has dedicated over two decades to the craft of mural art since my graduation from the Columbus College of Art and Design, my practice has been anchored in the belief that public art serves as the community's heart. It beats with the rhythms of daily life, reflects the joy and challenges of its people, and resonates with the hope and spirit of the times.

The City of Moscow's rich tapestry, woven from the fertile Palouse soils, the Nimiipuu legacy, and the intellectual fervor of the University of Idaho, presents a canvas like no other. Here, I see an opportunity to contribute a mural that captures the essence of a community in transformation, much like the agricultural cycles that define the region's landscape.

My enthusiasm for this project is further heightened by my connection to the themes at its core: play, celebration, and transformation are elements I have explored and resonated with throughout my artistic journey. This mural's location, at the heart of Moscow's community life, calls for a celebration of these themes that are both universal and deeply rooted in the local ethos.

I envision the mural not just as a backdrop to the city's daily hustle but as an active participant in the community's narrative—a canvas where the spirit of the Moscow community comes to play and where each stroke embodies the area's continual transformation.

The highlights of my career are testaments to my qualifications and alignment with the project's goals:

- Community-Centric Murals: I have spearheaded the creation of murals that served as focal points for community gathering and reflection, such as the "Dream Together" mural that echoes the collaborative nature sought for the Jackson & A project.

- Educational Impact: The educational murals I've painted, like "Dream Believe Achieve," underscore my commitment to creating art that echoes the educational spirit of Moscow, home to the University of Idaho.

- Revitalization through Art: My collaborative efforts with neighborhood agencies mirror the City of Moscow Arts Department's objective to intertwine cultural forces through art, as demonstrated in the "Create a Better Tomorrow" mural.

- Large-Scale Projects: Managing significant projects, including the "HOPE" mural, showcases my capability to oversee complex installations that resonate with the scale anticipated for Jackson & A.

- Collaborative Partnerships: Working with diverse organizations like Disney, ABC, and the Harmony Project illustrates my ability to navigate and incorporate various stakeholder visions into a cohesive artistic expression.

The City of Moscow stands as a beacon of cultural richness and community diversity. To contribute to its visual narrative would be to align my artistic practice with a community that cherishes art's role in driving economic development and civic identity. I bring with me not just a brush and paints, but a commitment to capturing the essence of Moscow, to creating a mural that celebrates play, acknowledges the celebration of academic and life achievements, and narrates the transformation of a city in constant evolution. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to potentially embarking on this creative journey with the City of Moscow and the many stories that await on the corner of Jackson & A Streets.

Sincerely,
Jeremy Jarvis

TITLE: Founder and Owner, 7 years

PURPOSE OF BUSINESS:
Jarvis Art Studio, Inc. was founded in 2012 by Jeremy Jarvis to focus on the creation of murals and public art works. Jarvis Art Studio strives to create murals and visual media that inspire and promote optimism.

Including:

- CORPORATE ART: Created corporate art work for the purpose of inspiring corporate culture and giving visual representation to a corporation's ideals and mission. One example of this is an 8 ft. x 16 ft. painting created for Fujitsu's corporate headquarters in Dallas, TX.
- COMMUNTIY MURALS: Designed, managed and executed community murals with the non-profit organization the Harmony Project in Columbus, Ohio. Working with hundreds of volunteers to assist them in properly completing several murals including a 100 ft. mural for the Columbus Boys & Girls Club.
- SCHOOL MURALS: Designed, managed and executed community school murals with the non-profit organization COLA (Columbus Ohio Leadership Institute) in central Ohio.
- FUNDRAISING EFFORTS: Designed and lead an 36 hour day and night event to paint 2 community murals for the Columbus Foundation during their 2015 Big Give Campaign.
- REVITALIZATION MURALS: Working with neighborhood organizations and development agencies to bring revitalizations efforts to distressed areas. Including working with YNDC (Youngstown Neighborhood Development Corporation) to design and execute a mural in the Idora neighborhood of Youngstown, Ohio.
- MURAL DESIGN: Working with clients of all types to design murals that represent their ideas and communicate their brand and vision. Handling all aspects of design from research, focus groups, brainstorming and presentation of visual design.
- MURAL EXECUTION: Lead the design, development and implementation of murals including managing teams of artists, quality control, equipment rental and safety and permit acquisition.
- RESTAURANT MURALS: Working with new and existing restaurant owners to create murals that serve as a perfect and essential element for their atmosphere and vision.
- MATERIAL INTEGRITY: Ensure that the paint used is of a high quality and appropriate for the surface it is being applied.
- EXPERIENCE: Jeremy Jarvis has 30 years design and painting experience that he has brought to Jarvis Art Studio, Inc. to ensure the quality and potential of every art work is dealt with in the highest regard.

LETTER OF INTEREST

I am writing to express my interest in pursuing your mural project in Moscow, Idaho, and to share how it aligns perfectly with my artistic vision and practice. As an painter deeply rooted in nature, I believe in the power of art to reflect and catalyze transformation, both within individuals and communities. The imagery of seedlings reaching for sunlight will symbolize growth, resilience, and the pursuit of potential, mirroring the vibrant spirit within the Moscow community.

Having spent time exploring Idaho when my aunt and uncle lived there, and immersing myself in the unique charm of its small towns, I feel a profound connection to this project. The opportunity to contribute to the visual landscape of this community is both an honor and a privilege. Through my murals, I aim to create a narrative that not only beautifies the space but also inspires viewers to connect with nature, embrace transformation, and celebrate the inherent vitality of their community.

I often draw inspiration from the rhythms and patterns found in our environment. By incorporating elements of both plants and animals into my murals, I seek to foster a sense of wonder and connection with the world around us. Through the playful dance of colors, shapes, and forms, I aim to create an immersive experience that invites viewers to pause, reflect, and engage with their surroundings in new and meaningful ways.

I am excited about the possibility of bringing this vision to life in Moscow and contributing to the cultural vibrancy of the community. I am confident that my artistic approach and dedication to excellence will result in a mural that not only exceeds expectations but also leaves a lasting impression on all who encounter it.

ARTIST STATEMENT

I've been a painter for more than 10 years, beginning as a poet and oil painter while pursuing my BFA at the San Francisco Art Institute. However, the root of my creativity stems from childhood, which was spent in the woods behind the house my father built. I was drawn to the woods because it was a place where I felt small as an observer and large as a narrator, and this is the same feeling that draws me to painting. Nature, with its infinite diversity and resilience, serves as an endless source of inspiration for my art.

My work embodies the concept of a tranquil retreat where one can find solace and inner peace amidst the chaos of modern life. With a deep appreciation for both traditional techniques and contemporary style, I am able to blend the two and bring designs to life. Throughout my career, I have had the privilege of transforming various urban landscapes, with each project imbued with its own unique narrative and character. From large-scale parking garages to intimate community spaces, I have consistently sought to engage audiences and evoke emotions through my work.

Dear City of Moscow and the Moscow Arts Commission,

Please consider me an applicant for the Mural at Jackson & A Streets call to artists. My name is Jhonattan Arango and, in partnership with my wife Samantha, we are South Florida-based public artists (alias Anón) who make geometric mural installations and studio arts. With a focus on flora/fauna and portraiture, we primarily use triangles to make organic, vibrant three-dimensional compositions. Rooted in an understanding of public art as a public service, we would be honored to create a unique, beautiful mural for the City of Moscow.

For this mural, we would dive deep into bridging Moscow's biodiversity with the human-centered component to craft a suitable narrative. As we both have BFAs in graphic design and over twelve years of branding experience, we know how to home in on the message to bring a good story home. On the technical aspect, we stand behind our work and only use high-grade mural paint (Golden), and use mural preservation techniques to promote protection from UV and graffiti. Our murals are rated 10+ years with minimal to no maintenance.

An aspect that makes our work particularly unique is the potential to truly involve the public in the creative process, thus bringing people together figurative and literally. Besides making solo murals, we work with an inclusive community format that allows for people to paint together—regardless of age or skill level—while still achieving professional results. We have facilitated over a dozen of these projects where hundreds of spectators become the artists, using art as an agent for peaceful community building. A recent mural with a community component, completed in downtown Wilmington, NC, saw around 500 people paint together over the course of two days. Community is at the heart of our work and, if this approach is of interest to the vision, you may find that this level of student-body/community involvement further nourishes a long-term, meaningful connection to the artwork.

Our body of work includes over 30 murals throughout the United States, most of which are city-sponsored placemaking projects in partnership with organizations such as BIDs, Main Streets, AiPPs, and Art Foundations. Our work was recently selected for WESTAF's Public Art Archive's decadal "Have You Seen My Public Art" map, and has been featured in Forbes' "5 Reasons Palm Beach is a Cultural Destination" as well as many other media platforms. In addition to murals, my studio art has been showcased in galleries and art fairs such as Miami Art Basel and Aqua Art Miami.

Thank you kindly for this opportunity to share our scope of work with you, and we hope we can bring an amazing piece of public art to the people of Moscow.

Letter of Interest

Dear Members of the Moscow Art Commission,

I hope this letter finds you well. My name is Whitney Herrington, and I am an artist based in Tennessee. I recently learned about the exciting initiatives and projects that MAC is spearheading to enhance the cultural vibrancy and artistic appeal of the Moscow area. I am writing to express my sincere interest in contributing to these efforts through my artistic endeavors.

After carefully looking over your RFQ, I know I could create a design that would work perfectly with your requested narrative, while also ringing true to my aesthetic as an artist. Your description of water, seeds, and soil creating a playful dance towards the sun really inspires me. I love to use bright colors and bold outlines, florals, and wording to help tell the stories of my murals. Creating for clients is what I do best, and I love to artistically challenge myself when designing their projects by doing thorough research, sketching, and revising until we get it just right.

I have been hand painting murals professionally since 2018. I am an experienced painter with knowledge of working with clients, lifts, and paints. Your project is something that I would be honored to do and I would make your city proud with my design. I will also reach out to citizens of Moscow to ask for their input and opinions through Facebook and Instagram.

Although I am an artist from Tennessee, I have traveled to other states to create art as well. In 2021, I was the RFQ winner for Casper, Wyoming's Casper Mural Project. I flew to Wyoming and painted their 15x40ft mural in 7 days. I have created over 150 projects and worked with more than 90 clients.

If you choose me as your mural artist, you will not be disappointed. My attention to detail and overall skill level will speak for itself. If you have any other questions, please reach out to me or my references listed on my attached resume.

Sincerely,

Whitney Herrington

Dear Moscow Arts Commission,

Hello, my name is Yi, I am a Chinese American artist. I create surrealistic and dreamlike works that often include nature. I am eager and curious about hopefully collaborating on the upcoming Jackson & A Streets mural project. One artistic goal is to continue to explore and improve what I can create. I am just beginning to work on murals, so I am applying to this opportunity in search of walls where I can practice translating my style to a larger scale.

I have a soft, nostalgic spot in my memory for Moscow Idaho. When my family first came to the United States, we moved here where I attended Lena Whitmore Elementary. My Moscow teachers and classmates were among the first friends to have encouraged my drawing. I felt welcomed, learned English, and taught myself how to draw by following library books. My mother still works in Moscow and each time I visit, I am reminded of how beautiful the rolling hills of the Palouse area are.

I have growing experience with public art projects having just completed a project with Urban Artworks to design and produce three permanent indoor panels for Flourish, which is Bellwether housing's new apartment building in Rainier Valley serving the local low-income community. During this project I encouraged and worked with volunteers at two community painting events. I also was able to practice using spray paint, a new medium for me. In June 2023, I designed images for Seattle Public Library's Summer of Learning program that explored culture and diversity. Seattle Public Library used these images for their summer reading program to encourage learning and to represent BIPOC families.

Also, last August, I painted my first mural at Bellingham's inaugural Noisy Waters Mural Festival, and the experience showed me how art has the power to connect to the viewer, create community, and spark new ideas. Having practiced my art at home for so long, in this next chapter of my art career, I wish to find artistic challenges, meet other artists and creative people through making and sharing murals.

Because of my connections here, I would be honored to celebrate Moscow in this mural project if you are interested. Thank you for taking the time to review and consider my application. Best wishes for the upcoming project!

I am an immigrant and Chinese American artist living in Seattle. I make art, grow plants, explore life, and balance spreadsheets. I feel determined to live creatively using art to express my story and appreciation for what I find beautiful. I value nature, authenticity, supporting my people, attention to detail, curiosity, and resourcefulness.

My art is self-taught as I am always curious to learn about and experiment with a variety of mediums including pencil drawing, watercolor, and acrylic.

Besides creating at my studio, I am exploring interactions with the art community through exhibits, ecommerce, festivals, and public art.

To the members of the Selection Committee:

It is with great enthusiasm that I apply for this 2D installation at Jackson & A in Moscow, Idaho. I found a rich history in your city, and I truly believe that my skills are perfectly fit for embodying of your community. Oftentimes I include monsters in my work to amplify the accessibility of public art. Creatures of all kinds are a vector for analyzing humanity because they exaggerate universal experiences. Society is more valuable when we appreciate the things or people that are misunderstood. Quirkiness helps to broach difficult topics with levity, establishing the area as a fun environment for all ages, and my intention is to bridge the gap between city life and the natural beauty of Idaho's panhandle.

In terms of my professional qualifications, I have experience working on many types of public art matching this goal of complexity. The "Class of '21 Rackham Graduation Temporary Mural" was an 18' x 400' 38-person piece created over a day, helping me understand how to conceptualize, plan, and execute artwork intended for the ground. Additionally, I am proud of my work for the Foolsmoon Exhibition titled "Space Apple". This temporary exhibit was a 9' x 12' hung phosphorescent dropcloth created for the yearly glow-in-the-dark festival. This showcases my ability to think elastically within this medium.

My most rewarding and relevant experience with public art was on the Mother Earth Reclaims Mural in River Rouge. As a part of The Environmental Murals Partnership, I led a team of ten artists on our larger 12' x 90' wall. This piece was effective because of the collaboration between our team and the mentorship of a community representative who ultimately approved our design. Developing the mural this way allowed us to strike a chord with the public more than any of the partnership's past projects. I love intensive research of my mural locations, and I hope to champion the themes of campus connection and accessibility by depicting the history of Fayetteville.

I have worked in public art for four years and I am qualified because of my professional mentorship under the founders of Treetown Murals: Mary Thiefuls and Danijel Matanic. They've taught me the different ways of working at great heights, renting equipment necessary for your artwork, and the requisite safety precautions. I will use this experience to color my thought process and create a design that fits your desired timeline and budget.

This project is absolutely within my purview as I have contributed to projects anywhere between 100-7200 square feet. Because of this, I feel I am a strong candidate for making this place a destination on your campus and I look forward to further discussion with you.

Sincerely

Hugo's Art – Sculpture, Public Art, Fabrication, Murals | (602) 405-4684 | hugos.place@gmail.com

Dear Members of the Moscow Public Art Committee,

I am writing to express my sincere interest in the Moscow Public Art 2024: Mural at Jackson & A Streets project. Having reviewed the project description and the significance of the mural site, I am inspired by the opportunity to contribute to the cultural landscape of Moscow through my artistic practice.

As an artist deeply committed to social commentary and community engagement, I believe this project aligns perfectly with my artistic vision and values. My work serves as a platform to amplify the voices of underrepresented communities and shed light on important social issues. Through my murals, I aim to spark meaningful conversations, challenge norms, and celebrate the diversity of human experience.

I was particularly moved by the description of the mural site and its historical significance. Understanding the context and cultural background of the location is essential for creating a mural that resonates with the community it serves. My experience working on community-based mural projects, both locally and internationally, has equipped me with the skills and sensitivity needed to navigate complex narratives and engage diverse audiences.

Moreover, my personal background as an immigrant from Bolivia informs my artistic practice in profound ways. Like many of the individuals depicted in my murals, I have experienced firsthand the challenges and triumphs of migration. This shared experience allows me to approach the subject matter with empathy, authenticity, and a deep understanding of its complexities.

Through my work, I strive to bridge cultural divides, foster empathy, and celebrate the common humanity that unites us all. By engaging with the local community and incorporating their stories and perspectives into the mural design, I believe we can create a powerful and enduring symbol of unity and resilience.

In conclusion, I am deeply honored to be considered for this project and am eager to bring my unique perspective and artistic vision to the Moscow Public Art 2024 initiative. Thank you for considering my application, and I look forward to the opportunity to contribute to the vibrant cultural tapestry that reflects the spirit of play, celebration, and transformation at the core of the Moscow community.

Sincerely,

Hugo Medina

Letter of Interest

Since my father moved to this country from Trinidad & Tobago (hence the name Trinity), I have spent my entire upbringing in the creative arts. He was a musician and creative expression has always been an integral part of our family. I am interested in this project because roots resonate with me, growing new roots here in the United States, and chasing a dream of a better way of life and a meaningful, peaceful, and loving existence within our communities. Visualizing the community rising up from the fertile ground with water, seeds, and soil dancing playfully in transformation and growth, opening and stretching toward the sunlight. This cycle of life is our existence. My motivation for creating public art is to visually tell the stories of community residents and bring art to those who might not otherwise get to experience art. On past projects I have engaged the community in the installation of the mural and it is a wonderful experience that builds community pride and unity. For this project, the opportunity to use nature to symbolize the spirit and growth of the community of Moscow brings so many creative ideas to mind; specifically, the opportunity to focus on the community roots, identity, and potential in a way that captures the spirit of play, celebration, and ongoing transformation.

If chosen as a finalist, I would engage community stakeholders and invest intensive research to ensure I capture the City of Moscow's values, culture, people, within the context of the site. My past public art projects were designed to engage the the audience and elevate the aesthetic of the location in a unique and timeless way. Our mural could pay homage to the people indigenous to the region of Palouse as well as the agriculture, farming, and architectural elements that shape Moscow's identity. Much Like my "Generations" mural completed for Hillsborough Community College, I envision the mural possibly celebrating education, university programs, and cultural groups through careful constructed vignettes that tell interwoven stories of educational, industrial, recreational, and agricultural endeavors. As a public artist I always aim to reflect the diversity to ensure inclusion. As a former teacher, ensuring youth have access to artwork in their developmental and formative years cannot be understated. It stirs the imagination and plants seeds that will grow over time, so the opportunity to provide strong visuals which can educate and provoke thought are vital to a healthy community. I would be honored to design something uniquely special for a chance to connect with the community of Moscow.

Letter of Interest; Moscow Mural
Jennifer Batey and Stacie Boyer

Growing up in Post Falls, Idaho and Spokane Valley, we both continue to call the Pacific Northwest our home. Having a deep connection to both Washington and Idaho. Our work is inspired by the beauty of nature that surrounds us and connects us. With that being said, we hope that our portfolio and the projects that we have had the privilege of working on promote that sense of relevance to the place we all call home.

We have intentionally tried to seek out projects that are uplifting in terms of individuals or a community. This past year alone we have had the privilege to work on many projects that contribute to health, wellness, and community, here are just a few examples;

We had the opportunity to paint a pool surround mural for Thrive International. Thrive provides transitional housing, job resources, and community engagement for refugees and immigrant families. Another example was a K-8 school called Summit School, an expeditionary learning school. We created a mural that promotes creativity, inclusivity, and engagement for the students and faculty. It also brightened the space for all the visitors and events that happen there weekly. Another collaboration we had was with Summit Cancer Center North, commissioned by a patient seeking treatment there. We created the mural, with many hidden elements in their oncology room, for patients to enjoy while seeking treatment.

We feel confident in making a mural for the community of Moscow, where we can support and uplift the public through art. We hope to make the space you have on Jackson and A street, a beautiful reminder of the great place we call home, and inspire anyone who sees it for years to come!

Best Regards,

Jennifer Batey Stacie Boyer

Re: Letter of Interest Jackson & A Street Mural

Greetings,

I am writing to express sincere interest in the design and installation of the new mural at Jackson & A Streets. Please find that I write as the lead artist and representative of Team Rota, the artist team of myself, Karen Rohn and Shogo Ota. We are excited at the opportunity to help define a creative space that will be seen by countless people, as well as excited to work together on a large scale mural again.

Shogo and I share a background of public mural installation as well as art education. We also share a solid work ethic that is driven by massive imaginations. All of these properties make for a unified spirit that would benefit this mural installation.

The site of this mural is of importance as it sits on a busy intersection. As people from all walks of life, residents of Moscow and really, residents of the world, pass by this site, it will be important to appeal to all. It must be an image that the old and established, the young and new, and those in between find of interest. It must bring a sense of celebration that all can see and feel. It must represent transformation in nature that all can identify with.

Thinking about this mural conjures up images of fertile soil, deeply rooted people and plants. The spring time of life, when plants, animals and people all come outside with a renewed energy. We all take in the warmth, we all reach for the sun in our own manner. Going along with this is the need for clean water and how it supports us all, even joining the new with the old, as we share a respect for the dance of life and the transformative time of spring. Images of dancing grasses, undulating waters, and a rhythmic inclusion of color fill our thoughts as Shogo and I have discussed this mural. The expressive nature of art joining all these elements is our focus.

I will only speak of the relevance of being awarded this mural as it applies to myself. As a fulltime art & STEAM educator it means all my students (Potlatch School District K through 12) could gain a deeper understanding and appreciation that my teaching practice and my career as an artist co-exist. Most of my students have a hard time grasping that I am a working artist. In our town, people are farmers, loggers, and employees of a university, not artists. If I were to be awarded this job, my deepest benefit would be as an example to my students that we can do what we set our minds to.

As an individual, I am excited about this mural being installed. As an artist, I am excited about the opportunity. Thank you for your time and we both look forward to hearing from you.

2010 to present, BlackBird at the Depot Owner/Artist Potlatch, Idaho

After assisting in the preservation of the historic WI&M Railway Depot in Potlatch, I opened a space on the main floor initially as a place to sell my own paintings, photography, and written word pieces. What has evolved since then incorporates other local artists, small batch makers and used western inspired clothing and footwear. During the school year BlackBird is open on Friday and Saturday. The summer months include Wednesdays and Thursdays. My business has become a place where I meet people from around the world, share town history, make contacts, and connect with new clients.

Letter of Interest

March 19, 2024

To whom it may concern, I am submitting this letter to express my interest in the Mural at Jackson and A Streets, RFQ. I am a Las Vegas public artist. I paint and I also sculpt. I work in traditional media and I also work digitally. I have completed 2D and 3D temporary and permanent public art projects for Clark County and the City of Las Vegas. I strive to create work that connects with people on a deeper level.

I am interested in contributing to the public art in the Idaho collection. I would like to create a piece of public art for Moscow, Idaho for its transformative fertile land, deep roots, and outstretching potential. My proposed concept and mural would be in the spirit of play, celebration, and transformation.

Some may say that where I live, not much grows here. So I look forward to seeing the Palouse area in general. What grows there, the rich land and all in it. I look forward to designing and conveying some of the concepts in the project description into images. Conveying the dance of transformation into an image. I would like to spend some time there and let my experience there infuse into my proposed design, especially references to the land and what grows. Referencing the natural world is part of my artistic practice in a literal sense.

I paint with matte exterior house paint that is acrylic.

My experience and commitment to the art community along with my enthusiasm for the site and the project description make me the perfect choice for this opportunity. Thank you for considering my application.

Respectfully,
Vezun 24

MURAL ART

Dear Committee,

I am very excited to submit my materials for this open call because my professional skills and art vision appear to be well suited to this art opportunity.

I would like to propose my team of two artists. My wife, Julia, and I always work in a team. She has similar experience and excellent skills; together we have collaborated on many public artworks. Our work history is detailed in the enclosed resumes.

Specializing in large-scale murals over ten years, we custom design each piece to fit into the configurations of a specific location. Working with public art projects all over Europe, Asia and the US we know the entire process of creation from the sketch to the completion of the mural. I am adept to use different kinds of lifts, scaffolding and ladders and have personnel Lift Operator certification. I also have General Liability Insurance.

We both have bachelor's degrees in Architecture. Working as Project Architects in design of commercial and residential buildings for 8 years, we both have also been involved in planning and designing interiors for corporate offices and private homes. In mural art, we have extensive experience with private and public commissions, and have collaborated with curators, community representatives and architects. In January, 2018 Julia and I received an honorable award from the Mayor of Worcester, MA for contribution for the cultural landscape of the city for three mural projects. In July, 2018 I received a Certificate of Appreciation at the City Hall from the hands of Pete Rust, Mayor of Green River City, WY, for the government mural project. In September 2019 we were awarded by William A. Dory, Jr., Mayor of Green Castle, IN, at the ribbon-cutting ceremony celebrating Indiana's largest mural, painted by us. In June, 2023 I received National Mural Awards: National Silver Award and Regional Gold Award for the mural we painted for LivCo Art Festival in Geneseo, NY, US.

We have painted over than 50 murals with variety of materials like acrylic, latex and spray paint. All complex of skills and experience gives us freedom to create professionally.

We are passionate about painting and traveling around the world. We are motivated by the transformative power of murals. We are excited to visit Idaho and contribute our artistic skills to the city with our artworks.

As immigrants-turned-citizens, we use our projects to exchange cultural experiences, bridging communities through art. Engaging in these projects enables us to connect with diverse people, explore different places, and see the beauty our world offers. Each completed project serves as a platform for enhancing our abilities and honing our skills.

We believe that by painting our artworks we can create an environment in which any individual will feel welcomed and valued. Our goal is to inspire those who see our work to look more carefully at the world around them, to discover beauty.

Thank you for you time and consideration,

Sincerely,

Andrey Kravtsov and Julia Kravtsov

AJ DAVIS

Muralist & Sculptor

LETTER OF INTEREST

My techniques focus on realism and graphic surrealism paired with abstract geometric elements that aid in balancing compositions and highlighting architectural features. My work speaks to diverse communities and age groups, and I always strive to reflect on and relate the art to the communities and environments that I work in. I always work with all parties to make sure that all colors, shapes, content, etc., meet each project's parameters. Together, my vision and concept will be welcoming to all, offering a colorful and potent contemporary reflection of Moscow.

It is my goal to create a visually cutting-edge experience that will engage community members of all ages to celebrate the beauty around us and the history that makes each project possible. It is very important to consider imagery and colors that work well with the changing skies and surrounding landscapes and buildings. When considering the importance of a specific facility or place, I aim to create imagery that honors the environment and ecology of that specific area as well as the people and history. My art is inspired by natural phenomena and native wildlife and ecology.

Augmented reality is something I'm starting to expand upon with my mural work where I create a smart device (cell phones, tablets) activated animation of the mural with an app called Artivive. The viewer can open the app and point their camera at the mural, and it creates a real time animation of the piece (if desired). AR activations are cutting-edge additions to contemporary mural work and offer an additional level of technological engagement with the work!

I have the skill set, tools, resources, and knowledge to design and fabricate this mural so that it is not only impressive and conceptually strong, but can stand the test of time, with little to no maintenance. I am no stranger to thinking, designing & working on any scale. I have worked with many municipalities & my work has always been on time and within budget. I work alongside each city so that the work is successful for the community and the project administrators. On many occasions, I have been invited back to work again with these curators and have been highly recommended for my work.

I just completed a mural inspired by the Veteran's Memorial Circle in Rockford, IL. It serves as a monument honoring our veterans and all who have served and are serving time in an American military branch.

Last spring, I worked with the Colorado Wildlife council to create a mural at Coors Field of a Shiras Moose with an AR activation, "Moose on the Loose". In 2023, I completed a project with the city of Longmont to create a 1645sq/ft mural at The Spoke parking garage and affordable housing units in downtown Longmont with a smaller AR activated mural on the ground floor in the walkway between the parking garage and housing unit.

In June of 2022, I worked alongside the Museum of Outdoor Arts to help curate and facilitate a mural initiative at Fiddler's Green Amphitheatre featuring 8 local muralists and myself. I painted "The Fox Hole", a 1700sq/ft section of the iconic north entrance with an AR (augmented reality) activated mural featuring a portrait of the North American Red Fox gazing west over a fruiting cluster of mushrooms towards the Rocky Mountains. I recently painted the south entrance.

In June of 2021, I worked with the Colorado Wildlife Council and the Acoma House to create a 6,300sq/ft AR activated mural in the heart of Denver, one block south of the Denver Art Museum. This mural focused on acknowledging the concept and colors of the moonrise and sunset while featuring an Elk, Cutthroat Trout, and a Great Horned Owl. I also have several murals along south Broadway in Denver, one of which was painted for a past governor of Englewood, Joe Jefferson, on his family's longtime restaurant, the Twin Dragon, with the support of MOA.

I recently traveled through Central and South America, taking this journey to find some spiritual and creative growth and to be inspired by different cultures, religions, and histories of the countries I visited. On this journey, I painted 12 small free murals for locals, volunteered clearing fields on a farm, and planted trees in Peru. I always strive to utilize my art and platform to raise awareness and give back to programs and people in need.

I am a full-time muralist and digital designer from Denver, CO, specializing in mural production, casting, and metal fabrication. I graduated with a BFA in Sculpture from the University of Colorado Boulder in 2013. In 2016, I founded an internationally recognized jewelry and sculpture brand known as Project Street Gold and have worked alongside internationally renowned muralists and graffiti writers including Nychos, Mike Giant, and Fabian 'Bane' Florin to create limited edition series of cast metal sculpture. My work can be found around the world, most notably in the US, Europe, Indonesia, South America, and Central America. I am very proficient in CAD and graphic design and have worked with local VJ's and AR specialists to projection map and create AR activated murals. I am always seeking opportunities to challenge my knowledge of painting and sculpture.

My name is Gary Thomas. I have been painting for the past 60 years. My overall message is absolutely positive. I am always geared toward a creative stroke that is full of hope and optimism. My art is driven by a spirit of positive energy that relies on the power of abstract relationships which work together to meet the whole. The underlying message is that we are ALL phenomenal human beings with the potential for greatness and perhaps my work might just lead people to a creative enlightenment.

This project aligns with my paradigm of thinking with respect to my art. Art must first be a contribution to humanity. I paint to enhance the human experience. The project provides a platform for me to excel and express the depth of my soul through non-objective relationships pertaining to a deeper truth. Nothing can be more important in a work of art than truth. My hope is that my paintings will have the power to inspire and motivate people into finding the strength to overcome adversity.

Dear Moscow City Council,

I'm writing to express my sincere interest in the future mural located at Jackson and A Street. I'm a local graduate, digitally informed artist, and creative professional. I recently graduated from the University of Idaho with a Bachelors of Fine Arts. Northern Idaho has been my childhood home; however, I have lived in Moscow for the past five years and have grown to cherish the town and community. This opportunity would allow me to express and share my love for Moscow and Public Art while expanding my mural journey.

I started painting at an early age and have found that I enjoy painting subjects such as landscapes, flowers, abstract, and still life. I would love to add these influences into my mural proposal for this project. During my time in college, I explored and expanded my artistic expression to include more than painting on a canvas. I completed two murals for the University of Idaho in 2023. One is located in Dubois, Idaho and the other is located in downtown Moscow Idaho on the Prichard Art Gallery and Vandal Welcome center.

I enjoy working on a larger scale and want my murals to encourage people to slow down and admire their surroundings. For this specific mural, I'd love for it to show how beautiful and extraordinary life is here on the Palouse. I often find myself using digital tools to help me build my murals. During my proposal process, I use Procreate and Illustrator to create the design of the mural. Then, I use Photoshop to mock-up the mural design on the building. The mock-ups communicate how my pieces will live in the environment and allow me to make changes before painting.

Making a difference and producing impactful art is something that brings joy to my life. This opportunity will allow me to bring more public art to Moscow, and it will also amplify my mural portfolio. Overall, I enjoy making art, and most importantly I do it to bring happiness to communities and people.

Thank you,
Mikaela Herrick

Mural at Jackson & A
Moscow, Idaho

In 2017 I started working for a brewery in Charlotte, NC where I'd spend down time drawing chalk art around the taproom. The owners commissioned me to install a mural and in 2018 I began painting full time. With no classical training my process comes entirely from trial and error. I enjoy being outside of my comfort zone - attempting new levels of detail, style, and larger scale. This helps maintain variance in my work and keeps me excited and motivated for each new piece.

When starting a project I like to develop a connection with the client, hear their story, and do the necessary research before identifying a direction. From an artist's perspective there is always a desire to design in terms of what I like and what will best compliment my portfolio. However, I believe the most successful projects are those in which a balance is found and I enjoy trying to maintain a versatile style of work that allows for such balance. Ultimately, what's most important to me is that the artwork will be appreciated by those who view it.

My wife and I went on a road trip out west at the end of last year to celebrate our elopement. After coming back into the US from Canada through Washington state we drove east into Idaho and I think it's safe to say we were both very pleasantly surprised with our experience. We weren't expecting anything bad of course, we just didn't expect the shocking beauty of the landscape we found there. I feel that Idaho flys under the radar a bit in that sense, at least from someone on the East Coast. Having the opportunity to revisit with an artistic purpose would be very cool.

I thoroughly enjoy the process of researching a new area, learning its history, and finding a way to tell a part of that story through a work of art. Moscow has been no exception to this. The Palouse region is quite stunning and I love the significance it plays in the growth and prosperity of surrounding areas, both from a literal and metaphorical standpoint.

Several ideas come to mind but I really like the thought of playing off of the planting bed that sits in front of the west facing wall. Displaying a growing garden of sorts, with varying flora and fauna specific to the region at different stages of growth and bloom. This vegetation could not only vary in type and color but also in style - painting some in an illustrative/hard-line style, some very realistic looking, some more abstract, etc. The kind of style contrasting I'm reffering to can be a very unique look and this is something I tried to accomplish in my "Giddy Goat" mural.

To continue telling more of a story on the north facing wall I think it would be super cool to have this side almost act as the shed for the garden. Including some hyper-realistically painted items like a watering bucket, maybe a hose gun, varying bags of seeds and plant food, hand trowels and cultivators, maybe even some dirty boots. This is also where we could add in some fun easter eggs that are specific to the history of the city. Things like an old school pass from the University of Idaho dated 1892 or some used paintbrushes standing up in a glass to make a nod to the major appreciation for art this city has with its Heart of the Arts. We could also add a piece of tape on the glass that reads 1877 to honor when the city was incorporated.

Of course these are just general ideas I had on the direction that I thought I'd share, but ones I was excited about.

Thank you for reading!
Darion

Letter of Interest

I respectfully wish to be considered as a public artist for the Jackson & A street mural project in the City of Moscow, ID.

I believe I am the ideal candidate for this project as my artistic approach is entirely based on the ability to engage the local community and identify its unique symbols. My approach focuses on collective memories, historic landmarks, and the local identities of places and people. Over the last twelve years, I have organized public art and community-based projects across Latin America, Europe, and the US.

A highlight of the project is the chance to honor indigenous communities' vital contributions to Moscow by sharing their traditions and identities, fostering a culturally diverse city. I aim to infuse symbols and storytelling methods that reflect the collective heritages of the Nimiipuu and Schitsu'umsh tribes while portraying contemporary themes of empowerment and education.

In my murals, I portray familiar scenes, common people, local landscapes, and traditions that are part of daily life. To build up this feeling, I incorporate natural elements that have significant value for the identity of the place, finding popular symbols by working together with people. I am dedicated to crafting a symbolic representation that encapsulates the essence and identities of Moscow's diverse community.

On a personal level, I believe that the mural will contribute to promoting and activating the historical, natural, and cultural heritage of Moscow. It would constitute a vibrant new landmark, inviting people to experience it while reinforcing community bonds. Furthermore, I certainly believe that my deep understanding of education and urban culture will help me achieve a mural that really turns downtown Moscow into a place of meeting, contemplation and enjoyment.

My work experience in large-scale projects builds up a strong ability to manage budgets, fabrication and installation in a professional manner. I work in multidisciplinary teams with engineers, designers, architects, government agents and community stakeholders. Likewise, I include the local community collaborating with public schools, local art collectives and neighbors associations.

My mission is to connect with people's backgrounds, support marginalized groups, and improve public spaces, all in the service of communities feeling proud and developing a sense of belonging to their environment. Moreover, my overarching goal is to reduce the existing gap of social inequity by amplifying the voices of minority populations and encouraging the participation of people who have historically lacked opportunities to express themselves, such as the justice-involved individuals.

Previous Work Example

A closely related project tied to this opportunity involves a 200 x 10 ft public mural I painted in Hoytsville, Utah – USA in 2022, in collaboration with the Park City & Summit County Arts Council. The mural's creation was informed by extensive community engagement, encompassing workshops, school visits, 1:1 interviews, and open paint days. Over 10 participatory workshops were conducted to explore and depict community symbols.

To delve into the essence of the community, I engaged with the local elementary and high schools. Through interactive and lively activities, more than 200 students participated, expressing their creativity through drawing, storytelling, and collaborative group work. The aim was to uncover the distinctive features that define the uniqueness of the place. Using maps and cherished objects brought by the students, they shared insights into natural landmarks, historical sites, community leaders, town events, local flora and fauna, and common travel routes.

In addition to my individual research and the collective workshops, interviews were conducted with long-time residents, many of whom were the third or fourth generation of farmers and miners who settled in the area 150 years ago. Additionally, insights were gathered from two members of the indigenous cultures that have a longstanding presence in the region: Lucy Washakie (Easter Shoshone culture) and Larry Cesspooch (Ute culture).

Thank you for the opportunity to consider my application, and I look forward to working together on this project!

Bio

Hi! I am Sasha Reisin, originally from Argentina. I have been drawing for as long as I can remember, which led me to street art in 2012. During this time, I focused on painting hyper-realistic portraits of indigenous tribes that strongly gazed back at viewers. I was eager to produce a cultural shock as a window to other parts of the world.

In 2017 I started an art collective called MUTA, hosting a cultural house that was planned for demolition, which allowed us to experiment freely in the space. For almost two years, we organized workshops, art events, and architectural interventions. We forged a creative community of artists, urbanists, architects, and educators. Later,, I spent four years traveling across Latin America and the US, working in multidisciplinary teams for placemaking projects and participatory murals, dedicating myself to building community.

Currently, I spend my time making localized public art projects, where I thrive to empower people through art. I do a lot of community outreach so people can gather, share and recognize their own identities. My goal is to produce striking, public artworks that truly represent people and help them feel proud of their places.

Dear Moscow Arts Commission,

I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to the vibrant art scene of Moscow by painting a mural for the city. As an emerging mural artist within the community, I am eager to expand my portfolio. Recently, I completed multiple murals for the North Idaho Athletic Club, in addition to painting temporary window murals for local businesses such as Snap Fitness and the Moscow Food Co-op. It is my dream to continue creating vibrant, large-scale artwork. This project opportunity aligns perfectly with both my dreams and artistic style. I draw inspiration from nature, so I am particularly thrilled to read about elements like water, seeds, sunlight, and soil in a playful dance of transformation. I want to show what I can create by painting a meaningful mural that represents the local community and landscape I have fallen in love with.

Since making Moscow my home in 2020, I have undergone personal growth and profound transformation. Although I faced challenges during the Covid lockdowns and periods of isolation, I ultimately found a strong sense of community and support within this city. My personal journey of overcoming adversity and cultivating self-love is deeply intertwined with the fabric of Moscow. This mural project presents an opportunity for me to express my gratitude and affection for the community that has nurtured and uplifted me. Artwork possesses the power to capture the essence of a place and its people, and I am hopeful about the prospect of contributing to Moscow's visual identity in such a meaningful way.

I have fallen in love with the many facets of Moscow – Since graduating from the University of Idaho, I have worked as a Personal Trainer at NIAC, a community-oriented gym. My favorite part of my career has been offering a source of well-being and support to all types of individuals in the community and getting to know them on a personal level. I have also been working at the Moscow Food Co-op in their produce department, and I truly enjoy working with the local farmers and tasting all of the amazing produce the Palouse has to offer. Additionally, I am an Ambassador with the Chamber of Commerce, and have been attending open house events for local businesses and getting a look behind the scenes at how the community operates. For example, visiting the local library with the chamber and learning about all of their resources and programs, or touring trails on Moscow Mountain with the Palouse Land Trust and learning how they care for our environment. I have tried to immerse myself in our community and I feel that I have the experience to portray it in an artistic and authentic way.

Thank you for considering my application. I am eager for the opportunity to collaborate with the Moscow Arts Commission to create a mural that celebrates the unique character and resilience of Moscow. Together, we can create a mural that serves as a source of inspiration and pride for residents and visitors alike.

Sincerely,

Katelyn Jackson

I wish to express my interest in contributing artwork to Moscow Public Art : Mural at Jackson and A Street. Public art has the power to humanize spaces and make a deep and positive impact on those who encounter it in the course of their day. I believe that the splash of color, embrace of diversity, and celebration of nature that my artwork could contribute to the park would be inspiring and uplifting, elevating the mood of locals and the Moscow community, and conveying values such as interdependence, exuberance and compassion, while celebrating the natural beauty around Moscow. Among my greatest sources of inspiration are the spectacular landscapes and waterscapes I encounter while traveling the world in the course of my work. I believe that translating the wonder awakened by our natural treasures into artwork that is situated for urban viewers has an impact on the social consciousness that can be both restorative and galvanizing.

Over the course of my career, I've painted dozens of public artworks on six continents, including murals in museums such as the Japanese American National Museum, the Worcester Art Museum and the Oakland Museum of California. My more intimate studio work focuses on emotionally vibrant portraits, landscapes and cityscapes, and has been featured in solo exhibitions in Los Angeles, New York, London and Paris. In 2020, I had the honor of painting a five-panel mural for the Los Angeles County Department of Arts and Culture inside Edmund D. Edelman Children's Courthouse in Monterey Park, with the objective of making the facility more welcoming for the boys and girls who spend time there during juvenile dependency hearings. This year, I've been collaborating with contractors, conservators, a committee of community stakeholders, and a team of Italian mosaicists to translate one of my paintings into an intricate glass mosaic that the County of Los Angeles commissioned for LAC+USC Medical Center's new child care center, which is now in the final phase of construction.

Growing up in a Cambodian refugee family that lived in a neighborhood that rejected outsiders and considered me one, creating artwork that advocates inclusivity and embraces the "other" has always been very important to me. In my work, I celebrate the outsiders and underdogs, and include people of many different complexions, backgrounds and abilities. When creating public artwork, I derive inspiration from members of the community by listening to their stories and studying their faces to discover their unique qualities of soul and character. By incorporating figures inspired by local residents into the spectacular natural and urban backdrops that can be found around Moscow in a subtly heightened reality that is inspiring and aspirational, I believe I could offer something distinctive and memorable that would enhance the experience of living in Moscow.

Thank you for considering me for this exciting and impactful project.
